Acts of the Bengal Council.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

THE following Act passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 16th August 1873, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 13th September 1873, is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. V OF 1873.

An Act to provide for the levy of a lighting-rate in Howrah.

WHEREAS it is desirable to make further provision for lighting the town of Howrah with gas, by imposing a rate on those persons who benefit thereby,—

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Limits of the Town of Howrah.

1. The expression "the town of Howrah" in this Act shall be taken to mean the area of the Howrah Municipality as defined by the Lieutenant-Governor under the provisions of Section 3 of the District Municipal Improvement Act, being Bengal Act III of 1864.

Municipal Commissioners may submit to the Lieutenant-Governor a plan for lighting.

2. It shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners from time to time to submit to the Lieutenant-Governor for his sanction, a plan for lighting with gas any portion of the town of Howrah, whether so lighted already or not, such portion of the said town having been previously defined by the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting held for that purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor shall cause the plan to be published for one month in the Calcutta Gazette, and the Municipal Commissioners shall publish it in the vernacular in the town of Howrah; and after such publication, and after consideration of any objections which may be raised to it, or alterations suggested in it, the Lieutenant-Governor may, if satisfied that the lighting proposed in the plan is proper and sufficient, sanction such plan; or may refuse his sanction thereto; or may return it to the Municipal Commissioners for alteration in certain particulars to be specified by him, and, when altered, may sanction it as altered. The Lieutenant-Governor shall cause his sanction to any plan to be notified in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall at the same time cause the plan sanctioned to be published in the said Gazette.

Lighting-rate not exceeding three per centum may, after sanction of plan, be imposed on houses, buildings, and lands.

3. After notification by the Lieutenant-Governor as in the last preceding section mentioned, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to impose an annual rate not exceeding three per centum of their annual value upon all houses, buildings, and lands situated within such portion of the said town for the purpose of defraying the whole expense of lighting.

Proviso as to portions already lighted.

Provided that, as regards any portion of the said town already lighted with gas, and for the future lighting of which a plan shall have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor under the provision of the last preceding section if it shall appear that the estimated proceeds of the said rate at three per centum will not be sufficient, to defray the whole expense of such lighting, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to impose a rate sufficient to defray the whole expense of lighting such portion.

Rate payable by occupiers quarterly in advance.

4. The rate imposed under section 3 upon houses, buildings, and lands shall be paid by the occupiers thereof by quarterly instalments in advance; but no rate shall be leviable until the lamps in the portion of the town to be lighted shall have been lighted; nor shall any rate be leviable for any quarter or portion of a quarter antecedent to such lighting. Arable lands and lands used for pasturage, and buildings used exclusively as places of public worship or applied solely to charitable purposes, shall not be liable to the rate.

Arable lands, &c., exempted from rate.

Annual valuation how to be made.

5. The annual value of the said houses, buildings, and lands shall be the value fixed by the Municipal Commissioners year by year under the provisions of Section 27 of the District Municipal Improvement Act. And all the provisions of the said Act, and of Bengal Act VII of 1867, relating to the assessment and collection of the rate on houses, buildings, and lands shall, except so far as they are modified by the provisions of this Act, be applicable to the assessment and collection of the lighting-rate.

Assessment and collection.

Power to assess owners in certain cases.

6. If any house, building, or land shall be occupied by more than one tenant holding in severalty, or shall be of less annual value than one hundred rupees, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to recover the rate from the owner of such house, building, or land.

Owner to recover from the occupier rates paid by owner.

7. Whenever any rate shall be recovered from any owner of any house, building, or land under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be lawful for such owner, if there shall be but one occupying tenant of such house, building, or land, to recover from such tenant the entire amount of the rate which shall have been so paid by such owner; and if there shall be more than one occupying tenant of such house, building, or land, then to recover from each of such tenants such sum as shall bear to the entire amount of rate which may have been so recovered from such owner the same proportion as the value of the portion of such house, building, or land in the occupation of such tenant bears to the entire value of such house, building, or land, subject however to the provisions of Section 8 of this Act.

Owner may recover rate so paid as rent.

8. Every owner who under the provisions of the last preceding section may be entitled to recover any sum from any occupying tenant of any house, building, or land, or of any portion thereof, shall have for the recovery of such sum all such and the same remedies, powers, rights, and authorities as if such sum were rent payable to such owner by such tenant in respect of so much of such house, building, or land as may be in the occupation of such tenant.

Occupier liable to the rate for time of occupation only.

9. Every occupier shall be liable to the lighting-rate for the time of his occupation. When any person shall have been an occupier for a part only of any quarter, he shall be liable only for so much of the rate for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days during which he shall have been an occupier. If he shall have paid the rate in advance, the amount paid in excess of the sum due under this section shall be refunded.

Excess paid in advance to be refunded.

No rate to be charged during vacancy.

No such rate shall be chargeable to any person on account of any unoccupied house, building, or land for the time during which it may remain unoccupied.

Notice of cessation of occupancy to be given within seven days.

Provided always that when any person ceases to be the occupier of any house, building, or land upon which the rate has been assessed, he shall give the Municipal Commissioners notice thereof within seven days from the date of the cessation of his occupancy. If the occupier fail to give such notice within such period, he shall be liable to the rate assessed on such house, building, or land for the whole quarter, although he may have occupied for a part only of such quarter; and in cases to which the provisions of Section 6 of this Act apply, the rate assessed on such house, building, or land for the whole quarter shall be recoverable from the owner, if such owner has failed to give notice that such house, building, or land is unoccupied, within seven days from the date on which it ceased to be occupied.

Unknown owner or occupier how to be designated.

10. When the name of the owner or occupier of any house, building, or land is not known, it shall be sufficient to designate him in any notice served, or proceeding held under this Act, as the owner or the occupier of the house, building, or land on which the rate is assessed, and without further description.

Situation of gas-pipe or other gas-work to be altered at the expense of the Commissioners.

11. If the Municipal Commissioners deem it necessary, for the purposes of this Act, to raise, sink, or otherwise alter the situation of any gas-pipe, or other gas-work, laid in any portion of the said town, they may from time to time, by notice in writing, require the person to whom any such pipe or work belongs, or under whose control it may be, to cause forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, any such pipe or work to be raised, sunk, or otherwise altered in position, in such manner as the Commissioners may direct; provided that such alteration be not such as permanently to injure such pipe or work, or to prevent the gas from flowing as freely and conveniently as before; and the expenses attending such raising, sinking, or altering, and full compensation for the damage done thereby, shall be paid by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund as well to the person to whom such pipe or work belongs as to all other persons.

If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect, of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Total sum payable.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

Interest.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Parties liable to pay.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

Names of proprietors.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

The 25th August 1873.

As I am going to England for three or four months, I shall be unable to sign the final report of the Select Committee, but having attended nearly all meetings up to this date, I wish to record my general assent to the Bill with the alterations and amendments agreed to by the Select Committee so far as they have at present been considered, viz, to Section 99.

25th June 1873. B. D COLVIN.

I agree to the report, but think that the objections raised to the Sections CV, CVIII, CIX, and CXI in Act II of 1870 (being part of the Bill, Sections 125, 126, 127, and 128,) still hold good.

56. The copy of the registration and the medical certificate of every emigrant received by the superintendent as provided in section 48 shall be shown to the medical inspector; and all emigrants shall be inspected by the medical inspector at the depôt. Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back.

57. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor-district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor-district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. If such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or wilfully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging and medical attendance for such person, the superintendent may order such contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

60. Every emigrant, who is passed by the medical inspector as in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and labor in a labor-district, shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract before he is forwarded from the depôt. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract or his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before the emigrant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him, and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has personally explained the same. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the superintendent for the purpose, and after such contract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant, and the other to the person with whom he has contracted or his agent.

The superintendent shall, within seven days after the entry of such abstract, send by post a certified copy of every such abstract to the magistrate of the district in which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

Penalty on contractor failing to provide contract.

62. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor or, if he has been engaged by a garden-sirdar, the garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Money ordered to be paid by superintendent, may be advanced by him and recovered.

63. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 57, 59, and 62, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

If the vessel does not leave such place and proceed on its voyage within 24 hours of the day fixed, the master thereof shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each day during which the vessel remains at or within five miles of the place of embarkation. Provided that such penalty shall not be incurred if the delay is caused by or with the sanction of the embarkation agent or by any casualty incidental to or attending navigation, or is due to other reasonable and sufficient cause.

Fraudulent alteration of vessel after grant of certificate.

68. If the master of any vessel, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, so that such vessel is unfit for the accommodation of the number of emigrants mentioned in such license, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

And any master who shall commence the voyage without having on board such medical officer as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

Emigrant not allowed finally to leave vessel at any place other than that mentioned in pass.

75. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any emigrant finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named as the destination of such emigrant in his pass, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each such offence. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting emigrants to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any emigrants in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

Master to report arrival of emigrants at every intermediate station where there is a magistrate.

76. Any master or other officer, who wilfully omits to give any such information to such magistrate, shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Magistrate may regulate communication between vessel and land.

78. On the arrival of such vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the magistrate may regulate the communication between such vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land

After the submission of such report the magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding five days for the purpose of carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and he may further detain at such station for medical treatment any emigrant who is affected with any infectious or contagious disease.

Magistrate may detain emigrants proceeding by land.

80. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that a party of emigrants proceeding by land within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such party and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants and to report on their health, and whether any and what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease, and the magistrate may further detain for medical treatment such party or such emigrants of the party as are affected with any infectious or contagious disease for such period as the medical officer may certify to be requisite.

Magistrate may detain sick emigrants, and shall arrange for their accommodation and treatment.

81. 82. All expenses incurred under sections 79, 80, or 81, by a magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 93, in respect of any emigrant so detained shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the contractor by whom the emigrant has been engaged or forwarded; or in the case of an emigrant engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate.

Vessel may be detained.

On arrival of licensed vessel at the place of disembarkation, the master shall give information to the magistrate.

85. Whenever any licensed vessel carrying emigrants arrives at a civil station at which it is intended that any of such emigrants shall disembark, the master shall immediately give notice of the arrival to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, and shall forward to him at the same time the list furnished to him by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 72, or a copy of so much of the said list as relates to the emigrants who are to disembark. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate.

87. The magistrate shall also ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination. If he is satisfied that such reasonable provision has been made, the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted or his agent shall forthwith take charge of such emigrants except those, if any, detained under the provisions of the last preceding section. But if such reasonable provision has not been made, or if the employer or his agent shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, the magistrate shall order such arrangements to be made, and incur such expenses as under the circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted.

88. If it is intended that the emigrants on board of any licensed vessel shall disembark at a place which is not a civil station, the master of such vessel shall report the arrival, as required in section 85, to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, at the last civil station which such vessel shall pass before arriving at the said place of disembarkation, and shall not proceed on his voyage until the medical inspection of such emigrants has been made as provided in the said section. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate. Immediately on the receipt of such notice, the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. When such inspection has been made, the magistrate shall, without delay, authorize the master to proceed on his voyage, provided that he may, if he thinks fit, detain any emigrant who is unfit to proceed under the provisions of section 81.

Disembarkation at such place.

89. On the arrival of any licensed vessel at a place of disembarkation which is not a civil station, the emigrants who are to disembark at such place shall, in case the employers with whom they have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, be present, be disembarked and given in charge to such employers or agents. Provided that in case the medical officer in charge of such emigrants, if there be any such medical officer, and if there be not, then the master of the vessel in which such emigrants have been conveyed, shall be of opinion that any of such emigrants are in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the places where they have respectively contracted to labor, or that reasonable provision for the support and lodging of such emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination has not been made, or in case the employers with whom such emigrants have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, then and in every such case the emigrants so unfit to proceed, or for whose support reasonable provision has not been made, or whose employers may not be present personally or by their agents, shall be further conveyed in the vessel to the next civil station, and shall be there disembarked, and the place at which they shall be so disembarked shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be their place of disembarkation.

If necessary provision not made, emigrants to be carried on to next station.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

129. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Bills of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following further report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as now settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 11th September 1873:—

We, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to appeals to the Privy Council from decrees of the Civil Courts, have considered the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honor to present this further report.

Minute by the Hon'ble A. Hobhouse, dated 5th September 1872.
From Chief Secretary to Government, Fort St. George, No. 104, dated 16th September 1872, and enclosures.
From Chief Secretary to Government, Fort St. George, No. 119, dated 13th November 1872, and enclosure.
From Chief Secretary to Government of Bombay, No 2823, dated 20th May 1873, and enclosure.
Office Memorandum, Home Department, No. 1399, dated 13th August 1873, and enclosures.

We have provided in clause 5 that, when the decree appealed from affirms the decision of the Court immediately below, the appeal must involve some substantial question of law. This will limit the number of appeals in cases where there have been concurrent judgments on questions of fact.

The question as to whether the Court admitting an appeal under the proposed Act should have power to allow a decree to be executed without demanding security, notwithstanding the pendency of the appeal, must, we think, be answered in the affirmative. We are further of opinion that stay of execution ought to be the exception and not the rule, and that it is by no means a matter of course to take security from the respondent.

We have, therefore, struck out clause 17 of the Bill as re-amended in September 1872, and we have altered what was then clause 16 so as to enable the Court (a) to let the decree take its course, or (b) to take security from the respondent for the performance of the order of the Privy Council, and meanwhile permit him to enjoy the fruits of decree appealed against, or (c) to take like security from the appellant, and meanwhile to stay execution of the decree appealed from, or (d) to give any other direction that it thinks fit respecting the subject-matter of the appeal.

As the law stands, no time is limited for applying for execution of a decree or order of Her Majesty in Council. This is not reasonable, and may prove very inconvenient. The object of the appeal to the Crown is to correct the errors of inferior Courts, not to give unlimited, or more extended time to the parties for inforcing their rights. We have accordingly, in clause twenty, by adding six words to No. 169 of the second schedule annexed to the Indian Limitation Act, 1871, provided a period of twelve years, the same period as is fixed in the case of applications to enforce decrees of High Courts in the exercise of their Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction.

We have struck out the clause amending a portion of Bombay Regulation XIX of 1827, for that portion has been repealed by Act XII of 1873.

We have made one or two verbal alterations; and we think that the Bill as now amended might be passed. But as the Privy Council have expressed a desire to see the Bill, which now makes substantial alterations in the law, we recommended that its passage be postponed, and that in the meanwhile the Bill and this report be published in the Gazette of India and sent Home for submission to the Judicial Committee.

SCHEDULE.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to appeals to the Privy Council from decrees of the Civil Courts.

[AS RE-AMENDED BY THE SELECT COMMITTEE IN SEPTEMBER 1873.]

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law regulating the admission of appeals to Her Majesty in Council from certain judgments, decrees, and orders, of the Civil Courts; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

I.—PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Privy Council Appeals Act, 1873."

Extent.

It extends to the whole of British India; but it does not apply to any matter of criminal, or admiralty, or vice-admiralty jurisdiction; nor to appeals from orders and decrees of Prize-courts.

Commencement.

And it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

Repeal of enactments.

2. The enactments specified in the schedule hereto annexed are repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, the expression "decree" includes also judgment and order.

II.—ADMISSION OF APPEALS.

When appeals lie to Queen in Council.

4. Subject to such rules as may, from time to time, be made by Her Majesty in Council regarding appeals from the Courts of British India, and to the provisions hereinafter contained—an appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council,

(a) from any final decree passed on appeal by a High Court or other Court of final appellate jurisdiction,

(b) from any final decree passed by a High Court in the exercise of original civil jurisdiction, and

(c) from any decree, when the case, as hereinafter provided, is declared to be a fit one for appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

Value of subject-matter.

5. In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of section four, the amount of value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance must be ten thousand rupees or upwards, or the decree must involve, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to, or respecting, property of like amount or value, and where the decree appealed from affirms the decision of the Court immediately below the Court passing such decree, the appeal must involve some substantial question of law.

Bar of certain appeals.

6. Notwithstanding anything contained in section four,— no appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council from the judgment of one Judge of a High Court established under the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of Victoria, chapter one hundred and four, or of one Judge of a Division Court, or of two or more Judges of such High Court, or of a Division Court constituted by two or more Judges of such High Court, wherever such Judges are equally divided in opinion, and do not amount in number to a majority of the whole of the Judges of the High Court at the time being; and no appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council from any decree which, under Act No. XXIII of 1861, section twenty-seven, is final.

Application to Court whose decree is complained of.

7. Whoever desires to appeal under this Act to Her Majesty in Council must apply by petition to the Court whose decree is complained of.

Time within which application must be made.

8. Such application must ordinarily be made within six months from the date of such decree.

But if that period expires when the Court is closed, the application may be made on the day that the Court re-opens.

Certificate as to value or fitness.

9. Every petition under section seven must state the causes of appeal, and pray for a certificate either that as regards amount, or value and nature, the case fulfils the requirements of section five, or that it is otherwise a fit one for appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

Upon receipt of such petition, the Court may direct notice to be served on the opposite party to show cause why the said certificate should not be granted.

Refusal of certificate.

10. If such certificate be refused, the petition shall be dismissed:

Provided that if the decree complained of be a final decree passed by a Court other than a High Court, the order refusing the certificate shall be appealable within thirty days from the date of the order, to the High Court to which the former Court is subordinate.

Security and deposit required on grant of certificates.

11. If the certificate be granted, the applicant shall, within six months from the date of the decree complained of, or within six weeks from the grant of the certificate, whichever is the later date,

(a) give security for the costs of the respondent, and

(b) deposit the amount required to defray the expense of translating, transcribing, printing, indexing, and transmitting to Her Majesty in Council a correct copy of the whole record of the suit, except

(1) formal documents directed to be excluded by any order of Her Majesty in Council in force for the time being;

(2) papers which the parties agree to exclude; and

(3) accounts, or portions of accounts, which the officer empowered by the Court for that purpose considers unnecessary, and which the parties have not specifically asked to be included.

Admission of appeal and procedure thereon.

12. When such security has been given and deposit made to the satisfaction of the Court, the Court shall

(a) declare the appeal admitted,

(b) give notice thereof to the appellant and respondent, respectively,

(c) transmit to Her Majesty in Council, under the seal of the Court, a correct copy of the said record, except as aforesaid,

(d) give to either party one or more authenticated copies of any of the papers in the suit on his applying therefor, and paying the reasonable expenses incurred in preparing them, and

(e) give to either party an authenticated copy of any local Regulation, Act or Ordinance which he may require in the appeal.

Revocation of acceptance of security.

13. At any time before the admission of the appeal, the Court may, upon cause shown, revoke the acceptance of any such security, and make further directions thereon.

Power to order further security or payment.

14. If at any time after the admission of the appeal, but before the transmission of the record, except as aforesaid, to Her Majesty in Council, such security appears inadequate, or further payment is required for the purpose of translating, transcribing, printing, indexing, or transmitting the record, except as aforesaid, the Court may order the appellant to furnish, within a time to be fixed by the Court, other and sufficient security, or to make, within like time, the required payment.

Failure to comply with order.

15. If the appellant fail to comply with such order, the proceedings shall be stayed, and the appeal shall not proceed without an order in this behalf of Her Majesty in Council, and in the meantime execution of the judgment, decree or order appealed against shall not be stayed.

Refund of balance of deposit.

16. When the record, except as aforesaid, has been transmitted to Her Majesty in Council, the appellant may obtain a refund of the balance, if any, of the amount which he has deposited under section eleven.

III.—PROCEEDINGS PENDING APPEALS.

Powers of Court pending appeal.

17. Notwithstanding the admission of any appeal under this Act, the decree appealed against shall be unconditionally enforced unless the Court admitting the appeal otherwise directs.

But the Court may, if it think fit, on any special clause, to be shown by any party interested in the suit, or otherwise appearing to the Court—

(a) impound the property in dispute, or any part thereof, or

(b) allow the decree appealed against to be enforced, taking such security from the respondent as the Court thinks fit for the due performance of any decree which Her Majesty in Council may make on the appeal, or

(c) stay the execution of the decree appealed against, taking such security from the appellant as the Court think fit for the due performance of the decree appealed against, or of any decree which Her Majesty in Council may make on the appeal, or

(d) place any party seeking the assistance of the Court under such conditions, or give such other direction respecting the subject-matter of the appeal, as it thinks fit.

Increase of security found inadequate.

18. If at any time during the pendency of the appeal the security so furnished by either party appears inadequate, the Court may on the application of the other party, require further security.

In default of such further security being furnished as required by the Court, if the original security was furnished by the appellant, the Court may, on application of the respondent, issue execution of the decree appealed against as if the appellant had furnished no such security.

And if the original security was furnished by the respondent, the Court shall, so far as may be practicable, stay all further execution of the decree, and restore the parties to the position in which they respectively were when the security which appears inadequate was furnished.

IV.—EXECUTION OF DECREES OF HER MAJESTY IN COUNCIL

Certified decrees of Queen in Council to be executed.

19. The decrees of Her Majesty in Council when duly certified shall be enforced and executed, subject to the directions of the High Court or other Court as aforesaid, by the Court by which the suit was originally tried, and in the manner and according to the rules applicable to the execution of its original decrees.

Amendment of Act IX of 1871, schedule II, No. 169.

20. To the first column of No. 169 of the second schedule annexed to the Indian Limitation Act, 1871, the following words shall be added (that is to say), "or of Her Majesty in Council."

Petition for execution.

21. Whoever desires to enforce or obtain the execution of any such decree of Her Majesty in Council, shall present an application to the Court which made the first decree appealed from, and the said application shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the decree made in appeal and sought to be enforced or executed.

Appeal against order relating to execution

22. An appeal shall lie from any decree made by such last-mentioned Court relating to the enforcement or execution of any such decree of Her Majesty in Council, in the same manner and subject to the same rules as an appeal from a decree made upon an application for the enforcement or execution of the decree first appealed from.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Power to make rules.

23. The High Court may, from time to time, make general rules consistent with this Act to regulate—

(a) the service of notices under section nine,

(b) the grant of refusal of certificates, under sections ten and eleven, by Courts of final appellate jurisdiction subordinate to the High Court,

(c) the amount and nature of the security required under sections eleven, fourteen and eighteen,

(d) the testing of such security,

(e) the estimate of the cost of transcribing the record,

(f) the preparation, examination, and certifying of such transcript,

(g) the revision and authentication of translations,

(h) the preparation of indices to transcripts of records and of lists of the papers not included therein, and all other matters connected with the enforcement of this Act.

Publication of rules.

All such rules shall be published in the local official Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law in the High Court and the Courts of final appellate jurisdiction subordinate thereto.

Rules heretofore made.

All rules heretofore made and published by any High Court relating to appeals to Her Majesty in Council and in force immediately before the passing of this Act, shall, so far as they are consistent with this Act, be deemed to have been made and published hereunder.

Recorder of Rangoon.

24. In sections four, nineteen, and twenty-three the expression 'High Court' shall be deemed to include also the Recorder of Rangoon, but not so as to empower him to make rules binding on Courts other than his own Court.

Construction of Bengal Regulation III of 1828, sec. 4, clause 5.

25. The rules and restrictions referred to in Bengal Regulation III of 1828, section four, clause five, shall be deemed to be the rules and restrictions applicable to appeals under this Act from the decisions of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Saving of Her Majesty's pleasure,

26. Nothing herein contained shall be understood—

(a) to bar the full and unqualified exercise of Her Majesty's pleasure in receiving or rejecting appeals to Her Majesty in Council, or otherwise howsoever, or and of the rules for the conduct of business before the Judicial Committee.

(b) to interfere with any rules for the time being in force for the presentation of appeals to Her Majesty in Council, or their conduct before the Judical Committee of the Privy Council.

AMENDED LABOR DISTRICTS EMIGRATION BILL.

Nos. 3705-3706, dated Calcutta, the 19th September 1873.

From—A MACKENZIE, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Judl. Dept.,

To—The Commissioners of the Dacca and Assam Divisions.

I AM directed by the Lieutenant-Governor to forward herewith copies of the Labor Districts Emigration Bill, as now amended, and to request you to be good enough to obtain the opinions of the officers, as well as of as many as possible of the planters and the most intelligent coolies of the tea gardens in your division, on the changes made or proposed in the Bill, more particularly with respect to the nature of the amendments placed by His Honor on the papers containing the proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council of the 6th and 13th September 1873.

2. Separate copies of the paper of amendments are enclosed for reference and distribution. The Lieutenant-Governor is desirous of having the views of the parties interested, as well as of officers in the tea districts, as fully and carefully as possible upon these points.

3. The first amendment, it will be seen, refers to Cachar only, and the second is the same amendment having reference to Sylhet only. In either case the question is simply, whether it is better that the district in question should be removed from the operation of the Bill altogether, and left untrammeled and unfettered like any other district of these provinces, or whether it should be retained in the Bill.

4. All parties must see that a one-sided settlement—i.e., one, freeing planters from all restrictions in recruiting, and at the same time subjecting the coolie to special penal laws to enforce the contracts into which they may enter without any special precautions—is quite out of the question. Planters must choose whether they will have freedom of contract for themselves, with the protection of the ordinary law of the country only, or the present system of examination, registration and special precautions in regard to contracts, followed by a special penal law to make the cooly work out his contract as provided by the Bill.

5. In the former case, i. e., if they come under the ordinary law, planters may enforce their contracts—(1) by an ordinary suit, and (2) by the penal provision of section 492 of the Indian Penal Code (Act No. XLV of 1860), quoted on the margin.

SECTION 492

Whoever being bound by lawful contract in writing to work for another person as an artificer, workman, or laborer, for a period not more than three years at any place within British India to which, by virtue of the contract, he has been or is to be conveyed at the expense of such other, voluntarily deserts the service of that other during the continuance of his contract, or without reasonable cause refuses to perform the service which he has contracted to perform, such service being reasonable and proper service, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month, or with fine not exceeding double the amount of such expense, or with both, unless the employer has ill-treated him, or neglected to perform the contract on his part.

6. Amendments 3 and 4 are connected together; 4 is taken from the British Burmah Labor Contract Bill now before the Governor-General's Legislative Council (see last clause of section 16 of that Bill as published in the Gazette of India). The effect of this amendment would be, in fact, to allow a system of free emigration to go on side by side with the system prescribed by this Bill. The penalty on recruiting otherwise than under the Bill would be altogether removed; but it would be provided that no contract to labor in the labor districts should be binding on an emigrant. Now, an emigrant under the definition (as modified by amendment 3) is a person who has engaged to proceed to the labor district. No engagement to labor made under these circumstances, if made without the safeguards provided in the Act, would be binding on him; but if he goes without any binding contract, when he reaches the labor district he ceases to be an emigrant—he becomes an ordinary laborer, and may then enter into any contract he chooses, like any other local laborer under the ordinary law of contract. The question then is, whether, in those districts which remain under the Bill, it is desirable to allow this free system, or any other free system, side by side with the system under the Act.

7. Finally, the fifth amendment proposes to repeal the present power of planters themselves to seize runaway coolies. Without prejudging this question, His Honor would like much to learn what officers, planters, and the coolies themselves say about it. The effect of the amendment would be, that, instead of seizing his coolie, the master must prosecute him for desertion in the criminal court, under the third clause of section 123 of the amended Bill.

8. The question is, whether the time has come when so great an interference with the liberty of the subject as this power of the master to seize can be dispensed with. His Honor would like to know, both from the planter's and from the coolie's point of view, whether the power is liable to abuse; and whether, if not unduly used to restrain a fair freedom of action, the object would not be sufficiently gained by making it the duty of the Magistrate to seize and punish the deserter who may be pointed out to him.

9. I am to refer you to the proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council, published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th and 17th instant, on this subject, and to say that His Honor hopes to have your replies, with well collected and collated opinions, in this Secretariat before the 15th November next.

A letter No. 497, dated 22nd July 1873, from the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca, submitting the General Administration Report of Mr. Reynolds, Collector-Magistrate of Mymensingh, and of Messrs Page and Andrews, the Sub-Divisional Officers of Goalundo and Atteah.

1. RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor is under very great obligations to the Commissioner for his clear and practical report, which touches on very many subjects of interest in the way His Honor had desired, and is evidently not an office compilation, as so many reports have hitherto been.

2. Tour (Paras. 2 to 12).—His Honor notices that two Assistant Magistrates and two Deputy Magistrates were out on tour a good deal during the cold weather, and he trusts that in future, under the new system of sub-deputies, many more Joint-Magistrates, Assistant Magistrates, and Deputy Magistrates will be enabled to pass a good deal of their time in the interior.

He will be prepared to consider any separate proposals that the Commissioner may submit with reference to the crowded state of the record-rooms of the several Magistrates and Collectors in his division.

The Lieutenant-Governor has expressed his appreciation elsewhere of the services rendered by Mr. Power, Captain Badgley, and Mr. Chinnel, in connection with the late survey operations on the frontier.

3. Weather and Crops (Paras. 16 to 21).—The rice crop of the division was a good average one, and calls for no special remark. Next to rice the most important crop in the division is that of jute, and this was by far the finest that had ever been known. The area under cultivation was greater than in any previous year, and Mr. Reynolds estimates that the outturn of fibre from the district of Mymensingh alone exceeded two millions of maunds. Unfortunately, this excessive cultivation made necessary the employment of hired labor to assist in preparing the fibre, and the prices of the market fell at the same time so low that the fibre in many places cost the producer more than could be got from the produce. It is said that in some places the prices that were obtainable would not have covered the expense of preparation and transport, and the plants were allowed to rot and die where they grew, but perhaps this is in some degree exaggerated—such cases were probably exceptional and peculiar. A much smaller area is being sown with jute in the present season of 1873.

The Lieutenant-Governor notices (see paragraph 80 of Mr. Andrew's report) that in the Atteah sub-division jute is used in the manufacture of paper, so this is no new discovery. Indigo has almost disappeared from the Dacca division as an article of cultivation. The production of safflower has apparently exceeded the requirements of the English market, which is glutted at present; a cheaper substitute having been, it is said, discovered.

The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the general result of the information collected regarding the crops is to show exceeding readiness rather than backwardness on the part of cultivators to meet the demands of the market.

4. Public Health and Material Condition of the People (Paras. 27 to 31)—The public health of the division was generally good. There appears to have been no special epidemic,

The material condition of the people has, it is said, greatly improved as compared with what it was only a few years back. Immense sums of money now come into the country for payment of purchases of country produce, of which a fair share clings to the fingers of those through whom it passes on its way from the exporting merchant to the cultivators; but still there is no doubt that a good proportion of it does reach the ryot. A great many ryots have money put by, though unfortunately instead of being invested, it is for the most part buried. The heavy fall in the jute market during the year diminished the profits of many cultivators, but produced no general distress. It would, according to the Collector of Mymensingh, be difficult now to find a village where the majority of the inhabitants are in the toils of the mahajun. There can be no question, says Mr. Abercrombie, that the agricultural class of the inhabitants of Eastern Bengal are in a condition of increasing comfort and independence.

A copy of the Commissioner's remarks on the results of vaccination in the Dacca and Furreedpore districts will be forwarded to the Political (Medical) Department of this Secretariat, with a request that they may be communicated to the Surgeon-General of the Indian Medical Department, in order that the return showing the extraordinary percentage of 99 successful cases may be properly checked.

5. Emigration, &c. (Paras. 32 and 33).—The spontaneous emigration of the people of Sylhet to cultivate the waste lands of Cachar, which is reported, is a natural, most healthy, and beneficial movement, and every encouragement should be given to it.

6. Prices of Food and Labor (Paras. 34 to 36).—Food seems to have generally been cheap over the division; but at the same time the price was remunerative enough to pay the cultivators.

As regards the prices of food in the Goalundo sub-division, given in Appendix B to Mr. Page's report, page 64, the Lieutenant-Governor must doubt the accuracy of the figures when he sees wheat in 1871-72 entered at the low price of 10 annas per maund.

It seems almost incredible that only one-third of the Mymensing district should (as conjectured in Mr. Reynolds' 42nd paragraph) be under cultivation. This would give a total of 1,119 souls to the square mile of cultivated land. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that the Dhurumpore jungle occupies a long strip of Mymensing, that there is a considerable area of waste under the hills, and that there may be large areas of sandy chur. But it is hard to suppose that with all this two-thirds of the whole area is uncultivated. It may be gathered, however, from Mr. Reynolds' statement that there is still much room for the extension of jute, &c., and for increase of population.

The table of wages of coolies furnished in the Appendix B is useful, but it must be remembered that Goalundo is, in respect of labor, a very special place.

The Lieutenant-Governor trusts, with reference to paragraph 23 of Mr. Page's report, that every effort will be made to get the coolies at Goalundo decently accommodated, and to make their sanitary condition tolerable.

7. Public Opinion on General or Special Subjects (Paras. 41 to 46).—The Lieutenant-Governor desires to know whether it has been ascertained that any considerable landholders still continue to levy the imposts which they illegally imposed on their ryots under the pretext of the income-tax. He trusts that the Commissioner and District Officer will make it their special care that the object of the road cess shall be fully understood by the masses of the people. It should be most distinctly impressed upon them that the cess levied in any district will be expended for the benefit of that district, and not outside of it.

His Honor is most gratified at the testimony borne in more than one part of Mr. Abercrombie's report to the zeal and success of the various officers in working the grant for primary education. It was to have been expected that those among the landlord class who had profited by the ryots' ignorance should not care much for their education; but this will be overcome.

The Commissioner's account in his 46th paragraph of the antagonism which has on several occasions arisen between ryots and zemindars is a very striking and, the Lieutenant-Governor fears, a very true account. The whole subject is engaging the serious consideration of Government.

The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the whole of the Commissioner's and district officer's influence will be used to discourage the very objectionable system called "zimba," and said to be prevalent in the Backergunge district, by which a man who sets up a claim to some disputed right transfers his interests with the most illegal and improper motives to some powerful and pugnacious neighbour. Unhappily this is a practice not unknown in other parts of the country.

It appears that in this division there is a large native press, no less than 17 papers and periodicals being published. The Commissioner very fairly describes (paragraph 47) its position and character.

8. Administrative Changes (Paras. 48 to 57).—The transfer of rent-suits to the civil court appears not to have worked with complete smoothness as yet, and the fact has not escaped the notice of Government.

"The centralization of more power and responsibility in the hands of the district officer has undoubtedly," says Mr. Abercrombie, "been productive of good results in some instances, but its success depends much on the possession of certain qualities by the head of the family. If he be happy enough to possess these all will go well; his official household will be happy and contented, and work will be well done." The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the head of the district will gradually become more and more the effective leader of all departments, and that men not fitted for the active exercise of such functions will take to another line of the public service. Mr. Reynolds' suggestion, that a Magistrate should be able, if he wished, to delegate to a sub-divisional officer general authority over the police of the sub-division, subject to his own supervision, so that the police of the sub-division would look up to the sub-divisional officer as their immediate head, will be considered by the Lieutenant-Governor who has much inclined to that view.

His Honor acknowledges that it is too true that the success of the arrangements in regard to the charges of subordinate officers is sadly marred by the frequent changes of officers. The Government, however, is struggling to its utmost to remedy the evil. We have effected great improvement in regard to the higher officers. The applications for leave on medical certificates and other occasions for change are so constant that nothing but the most unremitting attention and the firmest hand can mitigate the bad effect of changes in the lower grades.

9. Land Revenue, &c. (Para. 68).—The difference in the character of the sub-infeudation of the land tenure between Dacca and Furreedpore is remarkable in two neighbouring districts. In the former it is an extreme case to find two middlemen between the zemindar and the cultivator, while in the latter five are common, and in some zemindaries the number reaches seven. Backergunge is much broken up into petty holdings.

Partition cases are found very tedious in this division. His Honor has no doubt that some measures to facilitate their more efficient disposal are very greatly required in both the Backergunge and Mymensingh districts.

The Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared, with reference to paragraph 240 of Mr. Andrews' report, to consider any proposal that the Commissioner may wish to submit for the erection of boundary pillars to facilitate the identification of boundaries in lands which are subject to the action of the river.

10. Excise.—The Lieutenant-Governor requests that the Commissioner will make inquiries as to the ground on which the number of licensed shops for the sale of country spirits and imported liquors was allowed to be increased in the Atteah sub-division.* A report on the subject should be submitted to the Board of Revenue, in which it should be especially explained what consideration was given to the question before the new shops were licensed; at what distances they are separated from older licensed shops; whether it was ascertained, and if so, how it was ascertained that these new shops were required; and whether any attempt was made to find out whether the opening of these shops was generally considered unobjectionable in the neighbourhood.

* Paragraphs 220 and 222 of Mr. Andrews' report.

11. Communications (Paras. 78 to 83).—The Lieutenant-Governor quite agrees with the Commissioner that development of water communication is what is most required in the Dacca division, and His Honor is very glad to see the hearty interest in the subject taken by the Dacca road cess committee and by others.

The postal department will be furnished with a copy of paragraph 280 of Mr. Andrews' report, in which he suggests the opening out of a postal route from Atteah to Dacca viâ Manickgunge, instead of as at present viâ Mymensingh.

12. Municipal and other Committees (Paras. 86 to 88).—The interest taken by the local committees in educational matters is in striking contrast to the lamentable want of interest exhibited in regard to municipal matters. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that officers will not be discouraged, but will persevere in their endeavours to interest the people in their own affairs

13. Statistics —The Lieutenant-Governor observes that Mr. Abercrombie has not noticed the collection of statistics which is going on in the division, and which is alluded to in the district and sub-divisional reports. His Honor begs the Commissioner will not omit this most important matter on the next occasion, and trusts that full attention is being given to it.

The results of Mr. Andrews' educational census (paragraph 48 of the report of the Collector of Mymensingh) of fifteen villages of the sub-division of Atteah, with a population of 16,991 inhabitants, are interesting. 1,516* persons of this population could read, write, and keep simple accounts. The fact that 20·6 per cent. of the adult males, and that 8 9 per cent. of the total population, are in possession of the rudiments of education in so backward a district as Mymensingh, is gratifying, and bears out the statement that education is not so rare in this district as in some other parts of the country. According to Mr. Woodrow's census in the Diamond Harbour sub-division of the 24-Pergunnahs, it was found that only $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. of the population could read, write, and count. And in Busseerhaut, among the Mahomedan villages only 3 per cent., and among Hindoo villages 14 per cent. were educated. In the Chooadangah sub-division of Nuddea it was ascertained that out of the whole population only $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. could read and write, while out of the adult male population $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. had this much education. It appears, moreover, in Atteah, that 61 women out of 5,272 are more or less educated, while in the Diamond Harbour tract not a single woman could read or write, and in Busseerhaut only six women out of 17,407.

	Total	Lducated
* Men	5,830	1,205
Women	6,272	61
Boys	2,824	245
Girls	2,065	5
Total	16,991	1,516

The Lieutenant-Governor would wish for a fuller report upon the educational census taken at Atteah, showing in some detail the classes of the community that were enumerated.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor is much indebted to Mr. Abercrombie for his clear and candid account of the qualities of his officers.

Extract from a letter from A. ABERCROMBIE, ESQ., Officiating Commissioner of Dacca, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, No. 465, dated Dacca, the 12th July 1878

PUBLIC HEALTH.

PARA. 29.—The material condition of the people is without doubt greatly improved as compared with what it was only a few years back. I speak now of the great mass of the people of the country, who either grow the bulk of their own food, tilling the land themselves, or else have land which they get cultivated for them on different kinds of agreement. Immense sums of money now come into the mofussil for payment of purchases of country produce, of which a fair share no doubt sticks to the fingers of aratdars and dolals and beparies, through whose hands it passes on its way from the exporting merchant to the cultivators; but still there is no doubt that a good share of it reaches the cultivator, else there never would have been the enormous increase in the crop of jute which was witnessed last season.

30. Respecting the agricultural class of the inhabitants of Eastern Bengal, there can be no reasonable doubt that they are in a condition of continually increasing comfort and independence.

31. The class who are most pinched are those of the higher classes, who have a fixed income,—say from a talook which they have given to some one on a fixed rent, or from employment in lower grades of Government service. They have to pay considerably higher prices now than formerly for servants for any work,—rebuilding a house, &c., and also for every necessary, except perhaps rice and salt. The increase of the excise revenue is probably a sure indication of the increasing wealth of the lower orders of the people; and the increased use of stamps and of the registration office would also seem to be sure signs of increasing comfort and independence. Mr. Beveridge is a little doubtful about the condition of the people. He has the following passage under this head, which I extract as being certainly original:—

"Natives of the better classes have often been reproached with shutting up their women and not educating them; but I confess that if native ladies were to come out in public, I do not see how their parents or husbands could afford to pay for the increased cost of their clothing. Increase in luxuries, or, what is often the same thing, improvement in civilization, generally involves increase in expenditure; and in my humble apprehension the great obstacle to a heightening the standard of comfort in this country is the poverty of the inhabitants. Probably the Malthusian doctrine will eventually be found to be the chief specific for the evils of Bengal, and I hope that if native communes and municipalities are ever established in the mofussil, they will be allowed to impose taxes on early marriages and on the possession of more than one or two children."

EMIGRATION, &C.

32. Emigration from this division is unknown, and immigration may be said to be confined to the tea gardens. Last year 4,583 imported coolies were landed in Cachar. There is a small flow of emigration from Sylhet to Cachar, and it is expected that this will increase; but it is entirely a spontaneous affair; the people go of their own accord and take up and clear waste land for themselves, but as yet their numbers are quite insignificant.

33. Sylhet people used also to come down annually and work during the manufacturing season at the indigo concerns of Dacca and Mymensing, but these are nearly all shut now. Sylhet people also go in considerable numbers to Akyab and work at loading rice into ships, but they stay only a short time.

PRICE OF FOOD AND LABOUR.

34. In Dacca rice, which is the staple article of food, has averaged five seers in the rupee, or Rs. 1-6 cheaper, but labour has not fallen at all.

In Furreedpore both food and labour have been slightly dearer.

In Backergunge rice was little cheaper, and the other articles of food were nearly the same as they were in the preceding year. There was no perceptible increase or decrease in the wages of labour.

Mymensing rice was averaged at 32 seers per rupee, and food generally cheap. Sylhet rice cheap. The crop of the previous year had been very large, and much of it had been held by the ryots in hope of better prices; but with a second good season all hope of this vanished, and the ryots had to sell for what they could get. Cachar, food cheaper in consequence of abundant crop. Labour excessively dear.

35. All the salt consumed in the division is Liverpool, and it is very remarkable that distance of transport from Calcutta seems to make no difference in the price to the consumer.

36. Food generally has been more abundant and cheaper than last year, but labour is no cheaper, nor can I see any ground for supposing it ever will be; all the labour, or nearly all that is required for the business which is being every day developed by European capital and enterprise in this division, has to be got from other parts of the country.

MANUFACTURES.

37. There is no manufacture on a wholesale scale in this division except tea and two indigo concerns. There is a considerable quantity of coarse cloth for use by the lower orders made in all the districts; it is considered more durable than Manchester cloths. A considerable quantity of date sugar is made in Furreedpore, and it is in sufficient quantities to be exported from the district. In the island of Dukinshahbazpore and the south of Backergunge cocoanut-oil is made and exported to Chittagong and Calcutta. There is also a considerable trade in iron and brass implements and vessels of local manufacture. There is also some lacdye manufactured here, and soap, known in the market as Dacca soap; finer cloths, also muslin and kasheeda (cotton cloth embroidered). This is chiefly exported to Arabia. A considerable quantity of gold and silver ornaments is exported to Calcutta. Lime in large quantities comes from Sylhet, but it is the produce of the Khasi Hills.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

38. The principal exports of the division are jute, tea, rice, hides, safflower, betel-nuts, oil-seeds, cocoanut-oil, sugar (coarse goor), dried fish, lime, oranges, stick-lac, India-rubber, cloths (cotton), and Dacca cheese and soap.

39. Imports are English piece-goods and cotton twist, hardwares, spices, tobacco, ganja, salt, opium, and fermented liquors; cattle which come from Dinagepore chiefly, and tobacco from Rungpore.

40. Reliable information as to the exact values of exports and imports is not to be had, and I should only mislead if I attempted to give any estimate of the value of the one with reference to the other. This much, however, is a matter of certainty, that the exports are largely in excess of the imports in money value, and vast quantities of silver are paid to the cultivators and petty traders residing in this division, of which a very large proportion is converted into ornaments or buried and is lost to circulation. During the last year the market value of jute went down about 50 per cent.; other things much as before. This year safflower has fallen immensely, but there seems to be an unwillingness on the part of some known buyers to touch it at all.

Timber sold well last year, the supply not being equal to the demand.

The local money market was rather dull, being considerably affected by the fall in the price of jute.

PUBLIC OPINION ON GENERAL OR SPECIAL SUBJECTS.

41. With regard to public opinion on general or special subjects, it is very difficult to state with precision what this is; and perhaps it would not be far wrong to say that no such thing exists, or can be, until some portion of the people, sufficiently numerous to give some importance to their opinion, shall have learned to read and write in the vulgar tongue. At present the persons who consider that their views should be received as the public opinion of the country, are a handful of men who have been educated chiefly at the cost of the public, and crammed with Shakespeare and Chaucer, till they seem ashamed to be acquainted with Bengali. Perhaps the subjects which might most have been expected to excite public opinion in this country are the new Criminal Procedure Code, the Road Cess Act, the abolition of the income tax, and the changes made with reference to the distribution of the grant for education. But as yet we have heard but little about the most important change introduced by the new Procedure Code,—the wide employment of Honorary Magistrates. This has not been long in operation in this division, the officers generally being very sceptical about getting proper men for the work, and anxious not to name men who might afterwards not reflect credit on their selection. The majority of people will ask—Why should a man leave his home and go ten or twelve miles when it is perhaps inconvenient to sit with a Magistrate and do work which he has always thought the Magistrate did very well by himself? Change is usually objected to in this country, and we shall have to keep the Bench system at work for some time before we can expect to get any real opinion of the people about it. The income tax had got to be a tax on so few people that there were no fire-works or illuminations on account of its abolition. Indeed, it affected last year so few natives of India who had not the opportunity of recouping themselves in great part, at least by passing on the tax to their tenants, that its abolition was no matter of great consequence to them, and many most likely have forgotten to discontinue the collection of it.

42. The Road Cess Act was looked upon with some favour by a section, who thought it would be the means of enabling them to recover rights which they had been unable to enforce in respect of land in the wrongful occupation of parties who had no title. The bulk of the people have probably no very correct idea of the objects and reasons for the introduction of the measure. Many must, however, have become acquainted with the practical working of the Act, for it was confidently rumoured last year that zemindars who are pretty strong in their own property were collecting at the rate of three pice. No complaint, however, of any sort reached any official, nor have I heard from any individual whose opinion I thought worth asking any expression of dissatisfaction. The only doubt about it ever expressed to me was, "Will the money be spent in the district? We never saw anything of that 1 per cent. out of the first ·4 per cent. income tax."

43 The grant for primary education has been worked with the utmost cordiality and zeal by every officer, and it has no doubt been well received by the people generally; but I do not think the majority of them ever expected, or now wish, that the sons and daughters of the fishermen and the cultivators of the field should be educated en masse. All men see how under existing laws and policy the bunya is usurping the seat of the Brahmin, and the money-lenders ousting the ancient families out of their possessions; and they have a strong idea that as the ryots are already become much more untractable than formerly, so they would only become wholly unmanageable and refuse to pay anything without knowing the reason why if they are taken in hand and educated. In most of the districts, I believe, that a considerable majority of the pupils we have got in the new primary schools would have had some education; not probably so complete as they will now get, but they would not have grown up wholly uninstructed.

44. Several districts in this division experienced a little excitement by the withdrawal of Mr. J. P. Wise from his connection with the country, and I am not sure that trouble may not be in store. The property was sold in such large blocks that no one could buy them single handed, and small companies of six and eight were formed, who did not delay long to begin quarrelling.

45. A massacre in the Garo Hills, too, furnished Mymensing with a little excitement, which resulted in an expedition and the submission of all the tribes, but there was no massacre of people of the plains last year. The expedition in the cold weather, 1871-72, into Lushai land seems to have produced a feeling of security which bids fair to continue. The success with which the survey party got through their arduous task this season shows, I think, that there is a public feeling among the Lushais which might be made much good use of and all the more the sooner it is done.

46. The state of feeling between ryots and zemindars is gradually attracting attention in several places from the frequency of violent collisions. Last year there was the difficulty at Tooshkhally, which had been commenced the previous year. Then there have been disputes on the Megna in Dacca, lately Mr. Wise's property, and now I hear of increased number of suits in the civil court. Suits in court of course we seek not to prevent, but the violent collisions between combinations of ryots and their landlords' lattials, and the fire raisings by which the ryots on strike seek to hinder any from siding with the landlord, are subjects which will have to be considered seriously before long. The plan of operations is simple. When a village has gone on strike, the landlord singles out a few of the leading men and bribes them to his side, with a false measurement, with a null of length greater than that used in the village, or he throws in a few beegahs of land into his pottah under the denomination of "kyfeut" or "hajut" or "oozoree" or some other fancy name. These men then go to court ready to swear anything against the men on strike, and in a day or two some of them find their houses burnt down about their ears.

PRESS.

47. The press has just as much influence as a press in its infancy, and in a country where only a very small fraction of the people can read would be expected to have. The circulation in the mofussil is small, the principal readers being amlah and people who make their daily bread in Government schools or offices and public courts. The tone is generally not unfair, though sometimes we are treated with an article for which without doubt the editor should be put in the pillory. A schedule of the papers published in the division is given in the margin. There is only one published in Mymensing (printed in Dacca); its subscription is Rs. 1-4 per annum, which perhaps explains its being taken in by a good many zemindars. The district officer observes that its articles are as heavy as its subscription is small, and he thinks it is more subscribed for than read.

Dacca.

"Bengal Times."
"Dacca Prokash."
"Hindoo Hitoishini."
"Shoobho Shadini."
"Mettro Prokash."
"Bhurrut Bandhub."
"Arijo Dhurma Prokashica."
"Bungo Bundhoo."
"Sanskrit Sonjiba."

Backergunge.

"Hithshadhinee."
"Bungo Durpun."
"Parimul Bahinee."
"Burrisaul Bartabaha."
"Gram Doot."
"Bala Runjeeka"

Mymensing.

"iggapunee."

"It contains articles on religious questions (tenets orthodox old Hindoo), explanations of the Vedas and Bhagavod Gita, a column of middle-aged news, and generally a moral poem, of which the sentiments are excellent and the literary merit very small, entirely free from scurrilous personalities." It may be said of all these that they convey but little instruction to their subscribers, and rather less profit to their proprietors.

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES.

48. One of the most important of the administrative changes which have been made lately has been the transfer of the rent-suits to the civil court, and this does not seem to have given satisfaction as yet. The complaint is that suitors get more law and less rent, which is what they go for, and that it takes longer to get a decision and costs more.

49. The centralisation of more power and responsibility in the hands of the district officer has undoubtedly been productive of good results in some instances, but its success depends much on the possession of certain qualities by the head of the family. If he be happy enough to possess these, all will go well; his official household will be happy and contented, and work will be well done. But if it happens that he wants these qualities, whether from accident of birth or want of proper early training, then the whole hitherto united (happy) official family goes on strike together, and we have explanations and recriminations countless in number and endless in length.

50. Under the new Procedure Code arrangements have been made to give subordinate officers local limits within which to exercise their powers,—one, two, or three thannahs to each, according to circumstances; but the success of this plan is somewhat marred by the frequent changes which are found inevitable in consequence of now a man being transferred, then some one takes leave, a couple of men are urgently required for settlements, and arrangement must be made for the treasury; one gets dengue and another breaks his head, and so it goes on—always some change to be provided for.

51. The system of settling khas mehals with resident ryots has been introduced when it was found practicable, but in the islands and churs of the large rivers which intersect this division, there are objections to this form of settlement which do not apply to other parts of the country or to some parts of these districts. Except in some very old churs, the ryots usually bear in mind the possibility of having to flit at an early date, either in consequence of the chur dissolving beneath them or a deposit of sand spoiling it for a year or two; and when any of these seemed likely to occur, our resident ryot would make a midnight flitting of it with as much rent as he could gather, and leave us to find out where he had gone as best we might.

MODEL FARMS.

52. In Dacca we have a small experimental farm for jute, and several varieties have been sown, especially some which appeared to be most likely to come up to what Mr. Burnett said was the sort of article they chiefly wish for at Dundee. The season was not favorable for us at all, as the rains have been so late and so scanty that we had much trouble in getting the land ploughed and prepared for sowing. Some of the samples of the seed have come up even and well, but some which were sent us by the Jute Commissioners did not germinate very well.

53. At Jamalpore an arrangement has been made to work a model farm by which the cost to Government will be limited to the rent. The land is a Government estate—the old cantonment, some 600 beegahs ; of which the farmers agree to find us ryots to cultivate 200 beegahs any fashion, and with any seed we choose to give. We get rent at the usual rate on the 400 beegahs, and forego it on 200 beegahs. The crop on the 200 to belong to the cultivator, but to be at our disposal if we want to buy it for seed.

PART III.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 16th August 1873, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 13th September 1873, is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. V OF 1873.

An Act to provide for the levy of a lighting-rate in Howrah.

WHEREAS it is desirable to make further provision for lighting the town of Howrah with gas, by imposing a rate on those persons who benefit thereby,—

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Limits of the Town of Howrah.

1. The expression "the town of Howrah" in this Act shall be taken to mean the area of the Howrah Municipality as defined by the Lieutenant-Governor under the provisions of Section 3 of the District Municipal Improvement Act, being Bengal Act III of 1864.

Municipal Commissioners may submit to the Lieutenant-Governor a plan for lighting.

2. It shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners from time to time to submit to the Lieutenant-Governor for his sanction, a plan for lighting with gas any portion of the town of Howrah, whether so lighted already or not, such portion of the said town having been previously defined by the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting held for that purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor shall cause the plan to be published for one month in the Calcutta Gazette, and the Municipal Commissioners shall publish it in the vernacular in the town of Howrah; and after such publication, and after consideration of any objections which may be raised to it, or alterations suggested in it, the Lieutenant-Governor may, if satisfied that the lighting proposed in the plan is proper and sufficient, sanction such plan; or may refuse his sanction thereto; or may return it to the Municipal Commissioners for alteration in certain particulars to be specified by him, and, when altered, may sanction it as altered. The Lieutenant-Governor shall cause his sanction to any plan to be notified in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall at the same time cause the plan sanctioned to be published in the said Gazette.

Lighting-rate not exceeding three per centum may, after sanction of plan, be imposed on houses, buildings, and lands.

3. After notification by the Lieutenant-Governor as in the last preceding section mentioned, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to impose an annual rate not exceeding three per centum of their annual value upon all houses, buildings, and lands situated within such portion of the said town for the purpose of defraying the whole expense of lighting.

Proviso as to portions already lighted.

Provided that, as regards any portion of the said town already lighted with gas, and for the future lighting of which a plan shall have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor under the provision of the last preceding section if it shall appear that the estimated proceeds of the said rate at three per centum will not be sufficient, to defray the whole expense of such lighting, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to impose a rate sufficient to defray the whole expense of lighting such portion.

Rate payable by occupiers quarterly in advance.

4. The rate imposed under section 3 upon houses, buildings, and lands shall be paid by the occupiers thereof by quarterly instalments in advance; but no rate shall be leviable until the lamps in the portion of the town to be lighted shall have been lighted; nor shall any rate be leviable for any quarter or portion of a quarter antecedent to such lighting. Arable lands and lands used for pasturage, and buildings used exclusively as places of public worship, or applied solely to charitable purposes, shall not be liable to the rate.

Arable lands, &c., exempted from rate.

Annual valuation how to be made.

5. The annual value of the said houses, buildings, and lands shall be the value fixed by the Municipal Commissioners year by year under the provisions of Section 27 of the District Municipal Improvement Act. And all the provisions of the said Act, and of Bengal Act VII of 1867, relating to the assessment and collection of the rate on houses, buildings, and lands shall, except so far as they are modified by the provisions of this Act, be applicable to the assessment and collection of the lighting-rate.

Assessment and collection.

Power to assess owners in certain cases.

6. If any house, building, or land shall be occupied by more than one tenant holding in severalty, or shall be of less annual value than one hundred rupees, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to recover the rate from the owner of such house, building, or land.

Owner to recover from the occupier rates paid by owner.

7. Whenever any rate shall be recovered from any owner of any house, building, or land under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be lawful for such owner, if there shall be but one occupying tenant of such house, building, or land, to recover from such tenant the entire amount of the rate which shall have been so paid by such owner; and if there shall be more than one occupying tenant of such house, building, or land, then to recover from each of such tenants such sum as shall bear to the entire amount of rate which may have been so recovered from such owner the same proportion as the value of the portion of such house, building, or land in the occupation of such tenant bears to the entire value of such house, building, or land, subject however to the provisions of Section 8 of this Act.

Owner may recover rate so paid as rent.

8. Every owner who under the provisions of the last preceding section may be entitled to recover any sum from any occupying tenant of any house, building, or land, or of any portion thereof, shall have for the recovery of such sum all such and the same remedies, powers, rights, and authorities as if such sum were rent payable to such owner by such tenant in respect of so much of such house, building, or land as may be in the occupation of such tenant.

Occupier liable to the rate for time of occupation only.

9. Every occupier shall be liable to the lighting-rate for the time of his occupation. When any person shall have been an occupier for a part only of any quarter, he shall be liable only for so much of the rate for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days during which he shall have been an occupier. If he shall have paid the rate in advance, the amount paid in excess of the sum due under this section shall be refunded.

Excess paid in advance to be refunded.

No rate to be charged during vacancy.

No such rate shall be chargeable to any person on account of any unoccupied house, building, or land for the time during which it may remain unoccupied.

Notice of cessation of occupancy to be given within seven days.

Provided always that when any person ceases to be the occupier of any house, building, or land upon which the rate has been assessed, he shall give the Municipal Commissioners notice thereof within seven days from the date of the cessation of his occupancy. If the occupier fail to give such notice within such period, he shall be liable to the rate assessed on such house, building, or land for the whole quarter, although he may have occupied for a part only of such quarter; and in cases to which the provisions of Section 6 of this Act apply, the rate assessed on such house, building, or land for the whole quarter shall be recoverable from the owner, if such owner has failed to give notice that such house, building, or land is unoccupied, within seven days from the date on which it ceased to be occupied.

Unknown owner or occupier how to be designated.

10. When the name of the owner or occupier of any house, building, or land is not known, it shall be sufficient to designate him in any notice served, or proceeding held under this Act, as the owner or the occupier of the house, building, or land on which the rate is assessed, and without further description.

Situation of gas-pipe or other gas-work to be altered at the expense of the Commissioners.

11. If the Municipal Commissioners deem it necessary, for the purposes of this Act, to raise, sink, or otherwise alter the situation of any gas-pipe, or other gas-work, laid in any portion of the said town, they may from time to time, by notice in writing, require the person to whom any such pipe or work belongs, or under whose control it may be, to cause forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, any such pipe or work to be raised, sunk, or otherwise altered in position, in such manner as the Commissioners may direct; provided that such alteration be not such as permanently to injure such pipe or work, or to prevent the gas from flowing as freely and conveniently as before; and the expenses attending such raising, sinking, or altering, and full compensation for the damage done thereby, shall be paid by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund as well to the person to whom such pipe or work belongs as to all other persons.

If owner, &c., neglect to make alterations, the Commissioners may cause the same to be made.

12. If the person to whom any such pipe or work belongs, or under whose control it may be, do not proceed forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, after the receipt of such notice, to cause the same to be raised, sunk, or altered in such manner as the Municipal Commissioners require, the Commissioners may themselves cause such pipe or work to be raised, sunk, or altered as they may think fit provided that such works be not permanently injured thereby, or the gas prevented from flowing as freely and conveniently as before.

Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad.

Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Power to remove houses.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &C.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Total sum payable.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

Parties liable to pay.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

Names of proprietors.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

Apportionment amongst zemindars.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Proviso in respect of the pergunnahs in Schedule (E.)

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

Apportionment amongst proprietors.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

Apportionment where the lands held without payment of rent, not being estates on the register of revenue-free tenures.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

Amount apportioned payable by instalments.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

Final order of apportionment.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

Orders for payment.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

Recovery from zemindars.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

Recovery by zemindars or proprietors.

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and 3 of Section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865; provided that the right or interest of any person holding from the proprietor of such tenure shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

We have received and considered the papers noted in the margin.

We have made numerous alterations in the draft of the Bill, restoring in many cases the language of Act II of 1870, for instance, in Sections 11, 14, 35, 38, 62, 73, 84, 94, 97, 99, 109, 111, 116, 117, 122, and 125. We have altered the definition of "emigrant" and of "magistrate," and in reference to the latter we have specified in Section 93 the sections under which a Subordinate Magistrate may be deputed to act.

We have omitted the provisions relating to evidence in Sections 28, 62, 63, 66, 106, and 133, and the references to the Penal Code in Sections 13, 103, 108, and 132. We have omitted Section 12, the Council of India having brought in a Bill to deal with the subject of it. We have also omitted the definition of "servant" from Section 3; Clauses 4, 15, and 16 from Section 5; and the following sections or parts of sections :—Sections 26, 34 (last part), 42, 65, 67, 83 (last part), 97, 109 (last part), 112, 116 (last sentence), 122 (proviso), 124 (last sentence), and 140.*

We have not required that a garden-sirdar should pay a fee for having his certificate countersigned under Section 19, or that a recruiter should pay a fee to the medical officer for a certificate under Section 45. We have slightly altered the constitution of the Labor Transport Fund to meet the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Section 308.

We have given power to a Magistrate to advance any sum which a garden-sirdar may be ordered to pay to an emigrant under Section 31 and to recover the amount from the employer with interest; and we have provided that interest shall be recoverable on sums advanced by a Magistrate under Sections 79, 80, 81, and 86.

We have required (in Sections 22, 46) that the garden-sirdar or recruiter, as the case may be, shall produce his certificate or license when he appears with a recruit before a

If he be satisfied that an emigrant is in a fit state of health, and able in point of physical condition to journey to and labor in a labor-district, he shall countersign the copy of the registration; if he be not satisfied thereof, he shall give a certificate to that effect to the superintendent.

Medical inspector to examine emigrant if medical certificate not given.

The medical inspector shall examine any emigrant in regard to whom a medical certificate is not forthcoming, and shall certify whether such emigrant is in his opinion in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor-district; and if satisfied of his fitness, he shall countersign the copy of the registration.

Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back.

57. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor-district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor-district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. If such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or wilfully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging and medical attendance for such person, the superintendent may order such contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

58. Whenever an emigrant remains behind or is detained under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so remaining behind or detained. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain behind with the father or mother.

Emigrant ill-treated during journey may obtain compensation.

59. If upon the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent of emigration on the complaint of such emigrant, that he has suffered any ill treatment on the journey or that the recruiter or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging, the superintendent may cause him to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor or garden-sirdar, for or by whom he shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation, or sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged, and in such latter case he shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Contract to be explained by superintendent and executed in duplicate, and abstract to be entered in book to be kept by superintendent.

60. Every emigrant, who is passed by the medical inspector as in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and labor in a labor-district, shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract before he is forwarded from the depôt. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract or his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before the emigrant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him, and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has personally explained the same. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the superintendent for the purpose, and after such contract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant, and the other to the person with whom he has contracted or his agent.

The superintendent shall, within seven days after the entry of such abstract, send by post a certified copy of every such abstract to the magistrate of the district in which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

Penalty on emigrant refusing to execute contract.

61. Any emigrant who, without reasonable cause, refuses to execute such contract in conformity with the engagement previously registered shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by, or on behalf of, the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, in engaging, registering, and bringing or forwarding him to the depôt, and shall forthwith be discharged from such depôt. Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

Penalty on contractor failing to provide contract.

62. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor or, if he has been engaged by a garden-sirdar, the garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Money ordered to be paid by superintendent, may be advanced by him and recovered.

63. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 57, 59, and 62, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

Emigrant to be forwarded to labor-district with permission of superintendent.

65. When the contract of any emigrant has been duly executed, he may, with the permission of the superintendent of emigration, be forwarded to the labor-district in which he has engaged to labor by the contractor in whose depôt he is residing, or by the employer with whom he has made the contract or his agent.

Every such emigrant shall be furnished with a pass in the form set forth in schedule (E) annexed to this Act, signed by the contractor or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and countersigned by the superintendent of emigration and by the embarkation agent at the place at which the laborer embarks, specifying his name and age, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer. Every such pass shall be entered in a book to be kept by the embarkation agent, and shall be dated and numbered in a consecutive series.

Vessel must be licensed to carry emigrants.

66. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, without a license granted by the embarkation agent within the local limits of whose authority any emigrant may embark, to convey more than twenty emigrants at any one time to or towards any labor-district; provided always that the number of persons (exclusive of the crew and of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) carried by any vessel shall not exceed twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 34.

Fee for license.

A fee not exceeding four annas for every emigrant shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the embarkation agent to whom application is made to grant or withhold any such license. Such license shall be in force for only one voyage to one or more of the labor-districts, and shall specify the number of emigrants which the vessel is licensed to carry and the number of persons (including the crew) other than emigrants whom such vessel is licensed to carry.

Penalty for carrying without license.

The master of any vessel, in which at one time more than twenty emigrants are conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid, or in which the number of persons on board (exclusive of the crew and of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 34, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for delay in despatching vessel.

67. Such license shall state the date on which the vessel shall leave the place at which the emigrants are to embark. If the vessel does not leave such place and proceed on its voyage within 24 hours of the day fixed, the master thereof shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each day during which the vessel remains at or within five miles of the place of embarkation. Provided that such penalty shall not be incurred if the delay is caused by or with the sanction of the embarkation agent or by any casualty incidental to or attending navigation, or is due to other reasonable and sufficient cause.

Fraudulent alteration of vessel after grant of certificate.

68. If the master of any vessel, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, so that such vessel is unfit for the accommodation of the number of emigrants mentioned in such license, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for receiving on board more passengers than number specified in license.

69. The master of any vessel licensed to carry emigrants, who receives on board his vessel a greater number of emigrants or other persons than the number specified in his license shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine for every emigrant or other person so received in excess of the licensed number.

70. In computing under this Act the number of persons on board of any vessel, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

No emigrant to be received on board without pass.

71. The master of any vessel, whether licensed or not, shall not take on board any emigrant, if the number of such emigrants exceeds twenty, unless such emigrant, or some person accompanying him, shall show the pass prescribed by section 65 countersigned by the embarkation agent; or if the number of persons to be carried by such vessel (exclusive of the crew or of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 34. The master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every emigrant illegally taken on board.

Embarkation agent to furnish the master with a list of emigrants on board.

72. The master of a licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall not proceed on the voyage towards a labor-district until he has received from the embarkation agent a list of all the emigrants on board.

List what to contain.

Such list shall contain all the particulars noted in the pass of each such emigrant; but if all the emigrants whose names are entered in any one pass embark on board the same vessel, it shall be sufficient if the number and date of such pass are noted in the list.

To be compared with emigrants by agent and master.

The embarkation agent and the master of the vessel shall together personally ascertain that the number of emigrants on board corresponds with the number entered in such list.

Penalty for admitting emigrants not in list.

If the master of such vessel allows any emigrant not entered in such list to proceed in the vessel, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Copy of list to be sent to magistrate.

The embarkation agent shall send a copy of the said list or an extract from it to the magistrate of the labor-district to which any of the emigrants are proceeding.

Penalty if master proceeds without.

The master of any such vessel who shall commence the voyage without having on board such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as may be required as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Vessel carrying 200 emigrants must carry a qualified medical officer.

74. No vessel carrying two hundred emigrants shall be allowed to proceed on the voyage unless a medical officer, who is a licentiate in medicine, or who is declared to be qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been appointed to the charge of such emigrants. And any master who shall commence the voyage without having on board such medical officer as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

Emigrant not allowed finally to leave vessel at any place other than that mentioned in pass.

75. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any emigrant finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named as the destination of such emigrant in his pass, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each such offence. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting emigrants to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any emigrants in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

Master to report arrival of emigrants at every intermediate station where there is a magistrate.

76. Every licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall stop at every place in which a magistrate is stationed, intermediate between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such emigrants, and shall remain during not less than six hours of daylight. The master of every such vessel shall immediately on arrival report to the magistrate, or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 94, the number of emigrants on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths (if any) which have occurred among the persons who embarked on such vessel.

Any master who wilfully omits to comply with the provisions of this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Magistrate may at any time inspect vessel.

77. A magistrate may at any time go on board of any such licensed vessel carrying emigrants while within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may inspect the vessel, the emigrants, and all persons on board.

Master bound to give all information required.

The master and officers of such vessel shall be bound to afford to such magistrate all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the emigrants or other persons on board as may be reasonably required, and respecting any deaths which may have occurred on board, and respecting any other facts which may affect the health of the emigrants.

Penalty for omission.

Any master or other officer, who wilfully omits to give any such information to such magistrate, shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Magistrate may regulate communication between vessel and land.

78. On the arrival of such vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the magistrate may regulate the communication between such vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land from proceeding on board. And any person not complying with any order made under this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Magistrate may detain vessel for inspection and for removal of disease, and may detain sick emigrants.

79. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that any emigrants on board any vessel within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such vessel, and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants on board such vessel, and to report on their health, and whether any or what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease. After the submission of such report the magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding five days for the purpose of carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and he may further detain at such station for medical treatment any emigrant who is affected with any infectious or contagious disease.

Magistrate may detain emigrants proceeding by land.

80. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that a party of emigrants proceeding by land within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such party and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants and to report on their health, and whether any and what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease, and the magistrate may further detain for medical treatment such party or such emigrants of the party as are affected with any infectious or contagious disease for such period as the medical officer may certify to be requisite.

Magistrate may detain sick emigrants, and shall arrange for their accommodation and treatment.

81. If in any case whatever it appears to a magistrate expedient that any emigrant, in consequence of ill health, should not be allowed to proceed towards a labor district, he may order the detention of such emigrant; and in such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant.

Expenses how to be recovered.

82. All expenses incurred under sections 79, 80, or 81, by a magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 93, in respect of any emigrant so detained shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the contractor by whom the emigrant has been engaged or forwarded; or in the case of an emigrant engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate.

Measures to be taken if excess number of emigrants is found on board.

83. If it appears to a magistrate making an inspection of any licensed vessel that the number of emigrants on board is larger than the number specified in the license, he may remove the excess number and detain them until another opportunity of forwarding them to their destination is found. The necessary expense of maintaining such emigrants, and of conveying them to their destination, shall be recoverable by such magistrate or other officer who may have been deputed as aforesaid from the master of such vessel.

Infraction of the Act and rules to be reported.

84. In any case in which, on making an inspection of a licensed vessel, a magistrate shall find that any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act have not been complied with, he shall report the same to the embarkation agent by whom the license to carry the emigrants was granted to such vessel; and, if the circumstances of the case are such as in such magistrate's opinion make it necessary so to do, he may detain the vessel until the provisions of this Act, or any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor as aforesaid, have been complied with, so far as to make it possible for the voyage to be further prosecuted with safety and reasonable comfort to the emigrants.

Vessel may be detained.

On arrival of licensed vessel at the place of disembarkation, the master shall give information to the magistrate.

85. Whenever any licensed vessel carrying emigrants arrives at a civil station at which it is intended that any of such emigrants shall disembark, the master shall immediately give notice of the arrival to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, and shall forward to him at the same time the list furnished to him by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 72, or a copy of so much of the said list as relates to the emigrants who are to disembark. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate.

Magistrate shall send information to employer or agent, and direct medical inspection.

Immediately on the receipt of such notice the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. And he shall at the same time direct the civil medical officer of the station, or other qualified medical officer, to go on board such vessel and to inspect such emigrants.

Such medical officer shall, without delay, make a careful inspection of all such emigrants; and, after making such inspection, shall prepare and sign a report, in which he shall certify the state of health and general condition of each emigrant so inspected.

Sick emigrants to be detained at station.

86. The magistrate shall detain at the station for medical treatment any emigrant who is, in the opinion of the medical officer, in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor. In such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant, and all expenses so incurred by the magistrate in respect of any emigrant so detained shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrant has contracted.

87. The magistrate shall also ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination. If he is satisfied that such reasonable provision has been made, the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted or his agent shall forthwith take charge of such emigrants except those, if any, detained under the provisions of the last preceding section. But if such reasonable provision has not been made, or if the employer or his agent shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, the magistrate shall order such arrangements to be made, and incur such expenses as under the circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted.

If necessary provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants, they shall be made over to employer or agent.

If not made, or if employer or agent not present, magistrate to make arrangements; expenses recoverable from employers.

88. If it is intended that the emigrants on board of any licensed vessel shall disembark at a place which is not a civil station, the master of such vessel shall report the arrival, as required in section 85, to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, at the last civil station which such vessel shall pass before arriving at the said place of disembarkation, and shall not proceed on his voyage until the medical inspection of such emigrants has been made as provided in the said section. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate. Immediately on the receipt of such notice, the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. When such inspection has been made, the magistrate shall, without delay, authorize the master to proceed on his voyage, provided that he may, if he thinks fit, detain any emigrant who is unfit to proceed under the provisions of section 81.

If emigrants are to disembark at a place other than a civil station, medical inspection to be made at the civil station last preceding.

89. On the arrival of any licensed vessel at a place of disembarkation which is not a civil station, the emigrants who are to disembark at such place shall, in case the employers with whom they have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, be present, be disembarked and given in charge to such employers or agents. Provided that in case the medical officer in charge of such emigrants, if there be any such medical officer, and if there be not, then the master of the vessel in which such emigrants have been conveyed, shall be of opinion that any of such emigrants are in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the places where they have respectively contracted to labor, or that reasonable provision for the support and lodging of such emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination has not been made, or in case the employers with whom such emigrants have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, then and in every such case the emigrants so unfit to proceed, or for whose support reasonable provision has not been made, or whose employers may not be present personally or by their agents, shall be further conveyed in the vessel to the next civil station, and shall be there disembarked, and the place at which they shall be so disembarked shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be their place of disembarkation.

Disembarkation at such place.

If necessary provision not made, emigrants to be carried on to next station.

90. Whenever an emigrant is detained under the provisions of sections 81, 86, or 88, or is further conveyed under the provisions of section 89, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so detained, or to be taken forward along with the emigrant so further conveyed. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain, or be taken forward with the father or mother.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

91. Every medical officer who is required to make a report under the provisions of this chapter, shall submit such report to the magistrate, and shall enter therein the name and age of each emigrant, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer, as set forth in the list prepared by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 72.

Particulars to be entered in the reports of medical officers.

92. The magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 93, shall make a detailed report to the superintendent of emigration, of the arrival of all emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, and of all proceedings taken and orders passed by him under the provisions of this chapter, and shall forward with such report a copy of every report made to him by a medical officer relating to emigrants proceeding to a labor-district. He shall also forward to the superintendent any observations which he or the medical officer may think fit to make in regard to the state of health and general condition of the emigrants. Whenever such reports or observations relate to emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, he shall forward them to the embarkation agent by whom such emigrants were despatched, and the agent shall transmit them to the superintendent with any remarks which he may desire to record.

in certain cases through the embarkation agent.

93. The magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate magistrate to exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on a magistrate under the provisions of sections 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 83, 84, 85, 86, 88, and 92.

Magistrate may depute a subordinate magistrate to discharge the functions of the magistrate.

Penalty, if master or medical officer neglects to enforce rules.

94. Every master of a vessel, or medical officer in charge of emigrants on board of any vessel carrying emigrants, who shall wilfully and knowingly neglect or refuse to obey or to enforce on board of such vessel any rule which may from time to time be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Jurisdiction, if offence created by this Act is committed on board.

95. Any offence against any of the provisions of this chapter, or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act, committed on board of any vessel, may be tried by any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in any place at which emigrants may have embarked on board such vessel, or may have disembarked from such vessel, or in any place in which such vessel may be detained under the provisions of this Act.

Punishment of emigrant for desertion.

96. Any emigrant who deserts while in transit from the district in which he has been registered to the district in which he has engaged to labor may, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a period which may extend to three months. Such offence may be inquired into and tried in the district in which such emigrant is apprehended, or in the district in which the desertion took place, or in the district in which he was registered.

Provisions of sections 29, 31, 32, 33, 54, 57, 59, 73, 79, 80, 81, 84, 86, 87, 88 to apply to children, &c., accompanying emigrants.

PART III.—LABOR DISTRICTS.

Chapter 8.—Inland Labor Transport Fund.

Annual rate payable by employers.

98. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee and eight annas per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year for each laborer entered in the last return of laborers furnished (as is hereinafter provided) by such employer before such date.

Payment of rate how to be enforced.

99. If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as it may, under special circumstances, appear to the magistrate reasonable, such employer shall not so comply, the magistrate shall, by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer, levy the sum so payable.

If there shall be no such moveable property, or insufficient moveable property so found, the amount shall be recoverable by a civil regular suit from the person for whose benefit the laborers in respect of whom the same may be payable shall have been employed. In every such suit the Government shall be named as plaintiff, and the cause of action shall be taken to have arisen within the limits of the jurisdiction of any court having jurisdiction at any place where any such laborers may have been employed by such employer.

Fines, fees, and rates to be credited to "Inland Labor Transport Fund."

100. Subject to the powers conferred on a magistrate by this Act or by the Code of Criminal Procedure, of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act shall be credited to a fund which shall be called the "Inland Labor Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Chapter 9.—Inspector's Returns and Magistrates' Inspections.

Appointment of inspectors and assistant inspectors.

101. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint in any labor district so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and may define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate.

Establishment.

102. The Lieutenant-Governor may authorize inspectors and assistant inspectors to entertain such establishment as he may think fit. An assistant inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an inspector as he is authorized in writing by the inspector to perform or exercise.

Duty of assistant inspector.

Half-yearly report of laborers employed, of their state of health, and of mortality.

103. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers, a return of the number of all laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months.

Penalty for omission to furnish such report or for submitting false report.

104. If any employer shall refuse or wilfully omit duly to send in any such return, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

105. Every inspector of laborers shall once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor, visit all lands within the limits of his authority on which there shall be employed any laborers, and inspect every hospital, tent, camp, or building in any way used by any such laborers, and investigate the condition of the laborers employed; and for such purpose the inspector may require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and may make such inquiries as may to him seem proper. Every such inspector shall keep books, in which from time to time shall be entered the number of laborers then under contract with each employer, the number who shall then be sick or missing, or who shall have complained of ill-treatment, the particulars of such complaints, and such other particulars regarding the laborers as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time direct. Chapter 13.—Localities unfit for the Residence of Laborers.

119. If an inspector of laborers shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of his jurisdiction is by reason of climate, situation, or condition unfit for the residence of laborers, he shall give notice in writing of his opinion to the magistrate of the district, and such magistrate shall forthwith summon a committee to inquire into the fitness of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers. Such committee shall consist of the magistrate, the inspector of laborers, the medical officer of the district, and one or more employers of laborers, when such persons are available. If the magistrate is unable to procure the service on such committee of any employer of laborers he may, with the sanction of the commissioner of the division, appoint one or more persons whom he may deem qualified.

for the Lieutenant-Governor to direct the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inquire into and report on the following matters:—

Matters to be inquired into.

(1) The cause or causes of such mortality.

(2) The want (if any) of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures, on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, causing or contributing to such mortality.

(3) The fitness or otherwise of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers and the reasons thereof.

Such medical officer shall proceed with as little delay as possible, and shall hear and record such information on the subject of the several matters aforesaid as the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer, or inspector may desire to place before him, and shall visit and inspect such estate or portion thereof, and shall make his report expressing the reasons of his opinion and transmit the same with the recorded information and notes of his inspection of such estate or portion thereof to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Medical officer to report.

If the Lieutenant-Governor, after perusal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that such mortality was caused by the want of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or the employer, and that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers by reason of the want of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to declare in writing that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers. Such declaration of the Lieutenant-Governor shall have the same effect as the finding of a committee under the last preceding section.

Lieutenant-Governor may declare estate unfit for residence.

Contracts to be void as regards that estate.

121. Every employer who shall cause or permit any laborer to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of either of the two preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for the residence of laborers, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for the residence of laborers, he shall, with the sanction of the magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Penalty on employer permitting laborer to reside in locality declared to be unfit.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

122. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction by a magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claims to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall be continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

Penalty on laborer for absenting himself without sufficient cause.

123. If any laborer deserts or attempts to desert from his employer's service, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer wherever he may be found. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that such employer or other person shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Deserting may be apprehended without warrant.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if the place from which such laborer is charged with having deserted, be within the jurisdiction of such magistrate, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the magistrate within whose jurisdiction such place may be situated, who shall adjudicate upon such charge.

To be taken to nearest magistrate.

Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every laborer, who after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion shall again desert shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

124. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 125, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 125, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of their being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry to his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 99.

Conviction not to operate as a release.

Cancellation of contract by desertion.

125. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the inspector on the back of the contract.

Portion of sentence may be cancelled on application of employer.

126. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer; and in that case such magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

Expense of restoring deserting laborer to be paid by employer.

127. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

Time of unlawful absence or imprisonment to be excluded from contract period.

128. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

Other person enticing away, harbouring, or employing laborer under contract.

129. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Chapter 15.—Complaints mad by Laborers.

Employer to give notice to inspector if laborer wishes to complain of personal ill-usage or breach of contract.

130. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours, send notice thereof in writing to the inspector, and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

131. Whenever any inspector of laborers receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Procedure. Penalty for obstructing service of, or disobedience to, summons.

132. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

If complaint is untrue or frivolous.

133. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

If complaint is well founded.

134. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

Recovery of arrears of wages.

135. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such

136. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the said Code by a magistrate; or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any laborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

138. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. RESOLUTION ON THE RAJSHAHYE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 11*th September* 1873.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division for the year 1872-73, with its enclosures.

1. Mr. Molony, the Commissioner, has written a very full and careful report, for which the Lieutenant-Governor's best acknowledgments are due. The accompanying report of Mr. Bignold, the Magistrate of Bograh, is especially intelligent and interesting.

2. The Commissioner and the district officers have all done their duty well by making long and thorough visits into the interior. His Honor however notices with regret that the sub-divisional officers, with the exception of Mr. Nolan of Serajgunge, made but very short tours indeed. Now that they have been supplied with subordinate establishments, it is to be hoped that they will be able to devote more time to travelling.

3. The weather and the crops during the past year were favorable throughout the division. The rice outturn was above the average. Indigo was abundant; but it is sown on a bad system, and is said to be a failing trade in at least one district, as far as the connection of Europeans or capitalists with it goes. The mulberry crop, which is largely cultivated as food for the silkworm in Maldah, Moorshedabad, and Rajshahye, and less so in Rungpore and Bograh, was a good one. Jute, which is much grown in Rungpore, Dinagepore, Bograh, Rajshahye, and Pubnah, was a very good crop. It is said that the cultivation of mulberry, and even rice occasionally, is making way for jute. The Bengal ryot, remarks Mr. Molony, however backward he may be in other respects, is certainly not so in taking advantage of a demand for produce suitable to his lands, and may fairly be trusted to supply any demand that is likely to arise at remunerative prices; the ryots display, as the Lieutenant-Governor has elsewhere observed, an avidity, and not reluctance, in increasing the cultivation of a staple if they find it will pay. Oil-seeds and pulse are not cultivated to a large extent in the division. Sugarcane and tobacco, which is a crop of importance in Rungpore, and largely exported, gave a fair outturn. A superior class of sugarcane was introduced into Rungpore many years ago. It perished ultimately from blight, and its history exactly coincides with Baboo Joykishen Mookerjea's account of the superior sugarcane introduced into Hooghly, and recently published in the Calcutta Gazette. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to know whether the same results had been observed in other districts of Bengal. In September a cyclone swept over the division, which was badly felt at Pubna, and with extreme severity in the sub-division of Serajgunge.

4. In this large division there is probably, as the district officers show, a wide variety in the material condition and prosperity of the people. Moorshedabad partakes more of the character of western districts, and its account is not very favorable. Labor seems to be cheaper and food dearer than elsewhere. On the other hand, as regards the north-eastern districts, His Honor has no doubt that the favorable account of Bograh given by Mr. Bignold is correct. Mr. Bignold observes that the marked improvement among all classes is denoted by the better clothing which is used, by the substitution of metal vessels for earthenware, by the increase in the rate paid for labor, the independence of servants, and by the freedom from debt of the majority of the cultivators. In Rungpore also there can be no doubt that with fine produce and favorable tenures and a great demand for labor, the people are very well off, although they are suffering from a temporary discouragement owing to the fall in the price of jute. Again, in Dinagepore, with a comparatively sparse population and very productive soil, the people are stated to be well off, and will no doubt become much more so when the railway is completed. Mr. Robinson, the Magistrate of Dinagepore, expresses the opinion that the people are better off than in other parts of India, and adduces the testimony of a gentleman who had lately been travelling in Oudh, and who says nothing could be plainer than that the Bengal ryot with a permanent settlement is much better off than the peasantry of Oudh. This comparison, however, can hardly be said to involve a high standard, as the ryots of Oudh, besides forming a dense population, have had less rights recognized than any peasantry in India. When the Magistrate can compare favorably with Bombay, the Punjab, and Madras, we shall have more to pride ourselves upon.

5. There are several very noteworthy indications referred to in this report, that there is a rising among the ryots of a more independent spirit than previously existed, and of a better knowledge of their rights. A general impression is spreading in the country that the hitherto undefined relation between landlord and tenant must be replaced by something better. The Lieutenant-Governor fully recognizes that we are progressing, and that things must gradually be put on a more defined footing. His Honor however considers that it may be doubtful whether legal definitions and facility of recourse to courts, where rich men and lawyers prevail, will be altogether to the advantage of ryots in this country, and he does not desire to go too fast in substituting legal definitions for customary adjustments so long as the parties get on fairly well with one another. His Honor would hope that Government officers may avail much by their influence in effecting adjustments among the parties themselves.

6. Mr. Bignold has furnished a very interesting account of immigration into his district. There are some settlers from Monghyr, probably from the north-west corner of that district adjoining Tirhoot, who have left their houses, according to their own account, because "all the best lands in Monghyr were taken up by indigo." There is a large influx of Dhangur and Boona coolies and other hard-working aboriginal races from the Chota Nagpore Division. Rowani bearers from Behar are to be found during all the cold weather. Some Boonas, but not many, have settled in the division of their own accord. They usually pour in gangs of about a hundred or so for work during the cold weather, coming in December and going about May. Men, women, and children, come all together.

7. The Commissioner's account of the trade and commerce of the division is a useful summary. The chief articles of export are jute, silk, indigo, tobacco, hides, sugar, and rice. Rice is exported most largely from Dinagepore; Rungpore, Bograh, and Pubna are the largest jute-producing tracts. From Serajgunge 1,508,900 maunds of jute were exported by the Eastern Bengal Railway Company's steamers, and it is understood that more than half the jute from this mart leaves in country boats. Ganja is supplied from Rajshahye to the whole of the Lower Provinces.

The proposed Northern Bengal line of railway from the Ganges to Darjeeling, which traverses a portion of Pubna, Rajshahye, Bograh, Dinagepore, and Rungpore, has already been marked out. It will, if carried out, tend more than anything else to develop the resources of these districts. From Rungpore it is this year reported that the yield of rice was considered too good by the ryots, as the prices were thereby kept down. This idea will presumably cease to exist when there are better means of exit for superfluous produce. In Bograh also the Magistrate notes that in Adamdighi, one of the richest rice tracts of the district, a field of rice long over-ripe and deteriorating was still uncut after the middle of February.

The staking out of the proposed line of railway was carried out, the Lieutenant-Governor observes, without any complaint of oppression against the engineering staff.

8. It is reported by the Commissioner that all alarm which may have existed in connection with the new Code of Criminal Procedure has now subsided. The land and rent questions occupy the first place in the public thought. These questions have since led to serious outbreaks in the district of Pubna, which need not be further alluded to in the place; but the whole subject is receiving the Lieutenant-Governor's separate and most anxious consideration.

The Collector of Bograh refers to a sheep census that was carried out under the orders of Government, which created such a panic among those that had sheep that more than half sold off their stock cheap for immediate consumption, and abandoned that branch of their occupation. Mr. Bignold must, however, have very much mistaken the orders of Government if he attempted anything like a sheep census. The Commissariat required from officers a general estimate of the number of sheep in their districts; but a census, or an attempt at an accurate census, was not contemplated, and judging from the shape of the estimates received by Government, was never taken.

9. It is said that the influence of the native press is extremely slight as far as the general public is concerned. There is some truth however, the Lieutenant-Governor apprehends, in the remark of Deputy Collector Baboo Bunkim Chunder Chatterjea, that much of the general feeling of distrust towards the Government, which has often been the subject of comment, is due to the action of the native press. The Commissioner, Mr. Molony, writes upon this subject as follows: "For my own part I look upon the effect of the native press in the division as rather baneful than the reverse. It has no power for good, and encourages a feeling of restlessness and discontent among the young men of the educated and semi-educated classes, who, not being capable of forming an opinion of their own, are about to be led away by the views of the editors of these newspapers, however whimsical they may be."

10. The chief administrative change has been, as elsewhere, the subordination of departments to the district officer. The success of the introduction of the system depends very much on the co-operation of all parties concerned, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that, with the exception of one instance referred by the Magistrate of Rajshahye, no hitch has occurred.

11. The district of Rungpore in this division was one of the districts specially selected for statistical inquiries The report of the Special Deputy Collector, Baboo Gopal Chunder Dass, has not been submitted; but the Lieutenant-Governor gathered in his recent visit to the district that much progress had been made. Mr. Molony alludes to the suspicions with which the natives regard our intentions in these inquiries, but such suspicions, the Lieutenant-Governor observes, although they always exist at first, are as invariably found in practice soon to wear off, if we are moderate in our demands. His Honor is at a loss to understand the Commissioner's statement that "a census of cattle, sheep, pigs, and goats is now expected each year." Certainly nothing new in this way has been called for under the present Lieutenant-Governor, and he believes the Commissioner can only be referring to the general estimates which for several years past have been expected from all districts by the Board to complete a statement which is compiled in that office.

Board's Return No XLIB

But it is difficult to conceive how there could be anything vexatious to the people in the preparation of such avowedly approximate figures as these are.

The collection of vital statistics in selected areas is, it is hoped, favorably progressing in this division. The cordial co-operation of the village munduls in Bograh has secured returns from the rural areas which are probably more trustworthy than those collected by the municipal constables. In the rural areas of Bograh the adjusted rate of mortality is shown at 36 per 1,000.

An experimental farm has been started on the Chunchul Wards' estate, and the Lieutenant-Governor watches its progress under the Manager, Mr. Reily, with much interest.

12 The criminal administration of the division was no doubt satisfactory upon the whole, and the police as a body have done well. The Commissioner remarks that the transfer of rent-suits to the civil courts is still generally unpopular. The expenses are greater than they used to be; and strictness of procedure, and the entertainment of the best of the pleaders by the zemindars, render it requisite that the opposite party should also be represented by a pleader. "One great complaint," says Mr. Molony, "against the civil court in connection with rent-suits is the roundabout procedure necessary to secure the payment of money deposited in court; but this is not the fault of the court, but of the system which makes the convenience of the public subordinate to that of the officers of the account department." The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Commissioner would report more fully on this matter, which lies at the root, His Honor believes, of a great and growing defect in the administration. It is also, as remarked by Mr. Bignold, another blot on the system that the outlying Moonsiffs are not subjected to a sufficiently active control, and that the supervision exercised over them is far less rigid than is exercised over the officers of the Subordinate Executive Service. The readiness with which the people resort to the courts, even against Government, is, no doubt, a proof of their confidence as against Government; but it may be doubted whether it shows more than this.

13 The settlements in this division are numerous, but are chiefly those of resumed alluvial accretions and islands settled by Government under Act IX of 1847. The Government rights under this law must be duly maintained. The Government officials, however, who are bound to act strictly within the letter of the law, are, as the Commissioner remarks in another place, at a disadvantage in a suit with an unscrupulous adversary.

An important butwarra, which had been pending for 46 years, was finally completed during the year by the Collector of Rajshahye. The Magistrate of Pubna, however, within whose criminal jurisdiction the pergunnah lies, has found that the division is productive of land disputes owing to the subordinate tenures created by some sharers not falling within the share allotted to them. This case has the careful consideration of the Commissioner.

Mr. Bignold has furnished some interesting remarks regarding the transfer of occupancy rights by sale. The records of the registry office show that they are increasing yearly, and that occupancy rights generally fetch very good values. These records, however, are not wholly exhaustive, and the observation of the Collector is a true one, that if compulsory registration is to be retained as a provision of the law, and is not to be a dead letter, the cost of registration must be reduced. Leases and their counterparts are very rarely registered.

14. The assessment under the Road Cess Act has been going on smoothly and steadily in Rajshahye and Moorshedabad. Both the land and house valuation will afford a rate from October next. Mr. Molony remarks that the enforced submission by all zemindars and intermediate holders of their rent-roll is a chief reason of the unpopularity of the Act, and coupled with the enactment that returns shall be evidence against, but not in favor of, the person filing them, may have had some effect in inducing zemindars to attempt somewhat too precipitate a consolidation of rents and cesses which are not recognized by law.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor has quite recognized the importance insisted on by the Commissioner of establishing a system of feeder roads in connection with the Northern Bengal Railway. The subject has had his attention from the first. The ordinary lines, it appears, have been kept in their usual repair during the year. Village roads also exist over the division, which are very useful, but which might be improved by the local authorities giving small grants for temporary bridges or in aid of any special work. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the estate of the Tagores in Rungpore is particularized as the one in which least attention is paid by the zemindars to the wants of the people in the way of roads. He is glad to see the attention that is being paid by the Commissioner to the heavy rates that are still levied at the toll bar and river crossings. Where the Road Cess Act is in force, we shall be able to do away with these obstructions to traffic.

16. The people of this division, as elsewhere, have gladly availed themselves of the assistance offered them by grants to establish primary schools. The new system has been introduced with much intelligence and energy by the Magistrates and officers of the department; it is reported to be popular, and promises to be capable of expansion to the full extent that means can be made available.

17. The Commissioner's remarks on the dispensaries of this division are in too much detail for a general report. His observations on the delay in complying with indents and in supplying medicines to new dispensaries will be communicated to the Medical Department.

18. The local committees are reported to work well in Rajshahye. It is noticeable, as contrary to the reports of other divisions, that the town committees are here stated to be the most successful. Mr. Molony has also found the road committees most useful when individual members whose avocations required them to be much out on the roads would undertake the supervision of work in their neighbourhood. The local committee of the small town of Sherepore in Bograh, which is entirely a non-official one, deserves special commendation for its energy and good work.

19. In all the districts of the division except Bograh the management of the zemindari post has, says Mr. Molony, to its great improvement, been made over to the Postal Department. All the Magistrates urge the necessity of the extension of the country letter-box and rural messenger arrangement.

20. The administration of the Court of Wards, which entails the cessation of all illegal cesses, is said to be popular with the tenants.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that, upon the whole, he is not able to notice favorably the conduct of the zemindars of the division. The conduct of the estate of Roy Luchmiput Singh, Bahadoor, is unfavorably commented on by the Commissioner and the district officers. [NOTE.—Since this was written His Honor hears with much pleasure that this gentleman has strictly forbidden his agents to levy illegal cesses of any kind: an act very creditable to him, and which induces the Lieutenant-Governor to hope that he will retrieve the character as a landlord which was to be expected from his high position and great means.] Baboo Hurreenath Chowdri of Doobalhattee has distinguished himself by a very liberal school endowment at Rampore Beauleah, which has been separately acknowledged by the Lieutenant-Governor. Baboos Khetter Mohun Singh, Poresh Nath Roy, and Rani Shyam Mohini, are well spoken of by the Magistrates of their districts. The Maharani Surnomoyee is pre-eminent, as usual, for her public spirit and for the efficient administration of her property.

22. * * * * *

His Honor's hearty thanks are accorded to Mr. Molony for his successful and energetic administration. His thorough knowledge of the people and of his charge has been frequently and deservedly acknowledged by the Lieutenant-Governor.

EXPENDITURE OF ROAD CESS MONEY ON VILLAGE ROADS.

Circular No. 32, dated Calcutta, the 27th September 1873.

From—C. BERNARD, ESQ., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department.

To—All Commissioners, Chairmen of District Committees in Road-Cess and in Non-Road-Cess Districts.

IN the Government proclamation notifying the rates of the road cess for 1873-74 in the several road-cess districts, it was distinctly* stated that a part of the road-cess income would be spent on improving village roads and waterways, and villagers were expressly encouraged to apply for such expenditure about their homes. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to say that most of the district committees have, in accordance with the intentions of the Act, and with the pledges of the Government, set aside in their budgets for the coming year liberal grants for village roads. In some of the non-cess districts sufficient provision for village requirements has not been made; but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts the omission may be remedied in future years, and that savings on other grants of the current year (1st October 1873—1st October 1874) may be utilised to make grants for village roads.

* Extract from the Proclamation

Sub-divisions of the district will be arranged and a fair proportion of the proceeds of the tax will be apportioned for the petty roads of that sub-division That money will be distributed and spent by local men trusted by the inhabitants, who will be selected or elected for the purpose Every tax payer is encouraged and invited to claim that the tax shall be fairly applied to the village roads and local paths or water channels in which he is interested The Government will use every effort to see that such local claims are fairly met, and that every tax payer derives a fair benefit from the tax which he pays or headman, or to their fellow committee-man, requiring from the trustee in each case nothing more than a statement of the proposed works, the cost of doing them, and a certificate that they were done. Every such agent of the branch committee may probably improve the roads or waterways near his own house to begin with. But then on the other hand he will certainly (if he is honest) work more cheaply than the committee could do; and in many cases he may agree to supplement the committee's money with funds or labour, or tools or supervision at his own cost. The committee's object should be to get as many centres as possible from which small improvements in village communications should be prosecuted by persons who are personally interested in such improvements.

3. But there must be many considerable tracts where the zemindars are absentees, where there are no planters and no conspicuous headmen, which send no representative to the branch committee, and in which the people have not been accustomed to make known their wants to Government officers or to any public bodies. Yet in such tracts there must be scores and hundreds of villages which would derive great and immediate benefit from the expenditure of petty sums of from Rs. 20 to 100 on some village path, or on clearing the silt out of some local channel, or on a foot-bridge over some khal, or on embanking the path to the nearest haut, or on sloping the cart-road down to a ford, or on a wooden landing stage in the khal opposite some haut, or on other petty improvements to village inter-communications. There are some tracts where new cart-roads may be wanted, or old village cart-roads may require improvement. But there are, especially in Central and Eastern Bengal, many large tracts where carts are hardly known, and where village waterways and village footpaths are the only means of inter-communication.

It may perhaps seldom happen that an expenditure of Rs. 20 to 50 could do much towards improving a boat channel; but it will very often be that an embanked path from a village down to the nearest khal would be of the greatest benefit to the villagers, and could be made by the village "matabar" for Rs. 25 or Rs. 40.

4. If a branch committee gets (say) Rs. 2,000 to spend on village roads during the year, it might invite applications from village matabars or munduls for money towards repairing village roads, village pathways, and village waterways. It might perhaps be laid down that ordinarily not more than Rs. 50 would be given toward any work which benefited only one village, and not more than Rs. 100 would be given to any work which benefited less than five or six villages. It might be provided that the full grant would not be given unless the person or persons applying contributed something themselves either in the shape of money, or of food to the workmen, or of labour. The branch committee might consider all such applications at some date before the beginning of the working season; and they would allot their money to the applicants who made out the best case, or who agreed to contribute most themselves, or who were most to be trusted. The money might be given to the applicants on their personal receipt and undertaking that they would execute the work during the coming season; or it might be given half as an advance and half at the completion of the work. The branch committee would have to decide how they would act in each case; and they might arrange for the chairman or vice-chairman visiting and reporting upon a certain percentage of the village works which had received grants before the end of the year.

This much, however, would be certain,—the grants, whatever they might be, would have to be spent by the people themselves, and no elaborate accounts would be asked for. It would be impossible to attempt the execution of petty work of this kind all over the country if a technical system of account were necessary. The District Engineer or his subordinates might give their advice when asked; or they could furnish timber or bricks or wire for swinging foot-bridges; or they might help in other ways. But as a rule, the most that the branch committee could do would be to have some general idea of the object of each work to which they gave a village grant, to exact from the applicants a certificate of its completion, and to arrange every year for inspecting a percentage of such works after completion; such inspections being carried out, not by a low paid official who might do harm, but by the chairman or vice-chairman, or by some responsible member of the committee.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor would now ask district and sub-divisional officers to give their best consideration to the subject of spending the allotments for village roads to the very best advantage, so that the money may go as far as possible, and so that the villagers may realise that their village inter-communications are to benefit by the road cess. The same plan of spending the grants can hardly be applicable to all districts; what may answer very well in sub-divisions like Ranaghat or Moonshoegunge, might not be so suitable among the Sonthals of Govindpore or of Pachumba. But the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that if district and sub-divisional officers will work out their own plans for making the expenditure on village roads a tangible reality, they will in the end succeed, as they have undoubtedly succeeded in carrying out the Lieutenant-Governor's village school policy. No doubt there will be some failures to begin with, some money will be misspent, and perhaps there may be some cases of peculation; but, after all, such cases do occasionally occur in Government departments, and the district and branch committees cannot hope to be wholly exempt from such risks. We must only do what we can to reduce these to a minimum. The Lieutenant-Governor commends the matter to the careful consideration of Commissioners and Collectors, and he hopes that the general reports for 1873-74 may show that some beginning has been made in the direction indicated.

30	Shahabad ...	„ 4th	Nil	Clear and hot during the day; west wind; slight rain towards Doomraon and Sasseram. The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

DECLARATION.

The 8th October 1873.—Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that land is required to be taken by Government at the public expense for a public purpose, viz., for the construction of a local road from Berhampore to Garhpada in Pergunnahs Tulsabary, Bustah and Garhpada, Zillah Balasore, it is hereby declared that for the above purpose a piece of land, measuring more or less 20 beegahs 6 ghoonte 4 biswas of standard measurement, and 3 miles 4 furlongs in length, with an average breadth of 40 feet, is required within the villages of Garhpada, Uria Sasun, Hirapore, Bhutkhandi, Pergunnah Garhpada, Patpore, Pergunnah Bustah Anko, Turadih Patpore, Kasipada, Atiadiha, Berhampore, Kadomanda, Pergunnah Tulsabaug, is required.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of Section 6 of Act X of 1870, to all whom it may concern.

C. BERNARD,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The following order, issued by the Government of India, Home Department, is re-published for general information :—

No. 3048.—Simla, the 30th September 1873.—Notification.—Public.—The undermentioned Covenanted Civil Servants have been granted, by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, extensions of leave for the period specified against their names :—

Mr. F. R. Cockerell, 1 month, furlough.
" G. Graham, 6 months, sick certificate.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are re-published for general information :—

No. 3379.—Simla, the 30th September 1873.—Leave and Allowances.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following words be inserted after " Courts" in the example under Section 19(a) of the Acting Allowance Code, " who are not members of the general subordinate judicial service," and that the following be substituted for Rule 1 under the same section :—

Officers of the Classified list of the Financial Department, and Judges of Small Cause Courts who are graded as members of the subordinate judicial service, do not come under this clause, but under the next clause.

No. 3374.—The 29th September 1873.—Pensions and Gratuities.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following rule be substituted for that relating to Case III in Chapter XI of the Civil Leave Code :—

The officer will obtain a last-pay certificate from the treasury where his pay and allowances were last disbursed to him, and if he proceeds to another Presidency or Province, he must get the counter-signature of the Accountant-General who has jurisdiction over the treasury from which he obtained his last-pay certificate.

No. 3395.—The 30th September 1873.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to order the amendment of the definition of " Local Government" in—

Section 1 (a) of the Civil Pension Code,
Section 4 (e) of the Civil Leave Code,
Section 1 (a) of the Acting Allowance Code,

as follows :—

In each case omit " and" and add " and the Agents of the Governor-General in Rájputána and Central India."

No. 3427.—The 30th September 1873.—Separate Revenue.—Post Office.—There is reason to believe that the special privileges in respect to postage of official correspondence are not everywhere understood, and that sufficient attention is not paid to economy in the official use of the post.

The special privileges of official correspondence which affect ordinary transactions are as follows :—

(1).—An official cover of which the weight exceeds half a tolah, but does not exceed ten tolahs, may be sent by letter post for one anna only.

NOTE :—First.—For heavier covers, the charge by packet post is very much cheaper than by letter post.

Secondly.—It costs the Post Office Department less to carry packets (which are sent by banghy post) than letters.

(2).—An official packet may be sent in a closed cover.

The postage on a packet is one-half of that on a parcel; and the only advantages obtained by sending an official cover by parcel post rather than by packet post are (1) that a parcel is registered, while a packet is not registered; and (2) that, as pre-payment of the postage on a packet is compulsory, a packet cannot be sent " Service bearing."

The following rules should be observed :—

A.—Attention should be paid to reducing the weight of official covers sent by post, whenever this can conveniently be done. For instance, a whole bundle of papers should not be sent when a part will suffice.

B.—A cover of which the weight exceeds ten tolahs should be sent by packet* post, and not by letter post, unless it is important to save the extra time (never long) that it may, on some lines, and for long distances, take to transmit a packet by banghy post.

C.—An official cover should never be sent by parcel† post, unless—

(1.)—The contents are so valuable that, if sent by letter post, it would be registered, or

(2.)—The postage is a proper charge upon the individual or public body to whom it is addressed, and not upon the general revenues.

Whenever an official cover is received in any office which is wrongly stamped, or which (its weight being over ten tolahs) appears to have been needlessly sent by letter post instead of by packet post, or which (whatever its weight) appears to have been needlessly sent by parcel post instead of by packet post, the receiving officer should invariably remind the despatching officer of the instructions contained in this notification. This may be done, simply, by the use of skeleton forms; and it is hoped that all public officers will soon be so trained as to need no further reminding.

A copy of this notification should always be posted in each office before the officer whose duty it is to despatch the correspondence of the office, and also before the chief ministerial officer.

The Schedule of official postage rates is appended for convenient reference :—

Official Postage Rates.

* NOTE.—It will usually be convenient to make it a standing order in every office, that no cover weighing more than ten tolahs shall be sent by letter post without the express permission of the Registrar or other chief ministerial officer which permission should never be given without special reasons.

† NOTE.—It should probably be a standing order in every office, that no cover shall ever be sent by parcel post without the express permission of the Registrar or other chief ministerial officer, which permission should never be given without special reasons.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Marine Department, are re-published for general information :—

BENGAL EASTERN FRONTIER REGULATION I OF 1873.

A Regulation for the peace and government of certain districts on the Eastern Frontier of Bengal.

And whereas the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has proposed to the Governor-General in Council a draft of the following regulation, together with the reasons for proposing the same, for the peace and government of the said districts;

And whereas the Governor-General in Council has taken such draft and reasons into consideration, and has approved of such draft, and the same has received the Governor-General's assent;—

The following regulation is now published in the Gazette of India, and will be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and will thereupon have the force of law, under the thirty-third of Victoria, Chapter III :—

1. This Regulation shall extend to the districts named in the preamble, and shall come into force on the 1st of November 1873.

2. It shall be lawful for the Local Government of Bengal, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to prescribe, and from time to time to alter by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, a line to be called "The Inner Line" in each or any of the above-named districts.

The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, prohibit all British subjects, or any class of British subjects, or any persons residing in or passing through such districts, from going beyond such line without a pass under the hand and seal of the chief executive officer of such district, or of such other officer as he may authorize to grant such pass; and the Local Government may from time to time cancel or vary such prohibition.

3. Any British subject or other person so prohibited, who, after "The Inner Line" has been prescribed and notified in accordance with Section 2 of this regulation, goes beyond such line without a pass, shall be liable on conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100 for the first offence, and to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, or to simple or rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both, for each subsequent offence.

4. The Local Government may, from time to time, prescribe by notification in the Calcutta Gazette a form of pass for each district, and may in such form fix such restrictions or conditions as the Local Government may deem fit, and may require the payment of such dues and fees for such passes as to the Local Government may seem proper. Any holder of such a pass shall, on breach of any such restriction or condition, be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100 for a first offence, or to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, or to simple or rigorous imprisonment, which may extend to three months, or to both, for each subsequent offence.

5. Any rubber, wax, ivory, or other jungle product found in the possession of any person convicted of an offence under this regulation, may be confiscated to Government by an order to be passed at the time of conviction by the Magistrate.

6. The chief executive officer of any district comprised in any notification as aforesaid may, subject to the approval of the Local Government, authorize, by a written instrument under his hand, any public servant to arrest and bring before him with the least practicable delay—

Firstly.—Any person prohibited from crossing "The Inner Line" prescribed for such district, if such person shall be found beyond the line, and when asked to produce his pass shall refuse or be unable so to do.

Secondly.—Any person to whom a pass may have been granted, and who has committed any infraction of its conditions.

7. It shall not be lawful for any British subject or other person, not being a native of the district comprised in the preamble of this regulation, to acquire any interest in land or the product of land beyond the said "Inner Line" without the sanction of the Local Government, or such officer as the Local Government shall appoint in this behalf. Any interest so acquired may be dealt with as the Local Government, or its said officer, shall direct. The Local Government may also, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend the prohibition contained in this section to any class of persons, natives of the said districts, and may from time to time in like manner cancel or vary such extension.

8. Whoever, without the written permission of an officer authorized by the Local Government to grant such permission, kills or captures, or attempts to kill or capture, or abets within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, the killing or capturing of a wild elephant in any of the districts to which this regulation extends, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200 for every such elephant, and any elephant so killed or captured shall be confiscated to Government: Provided that no person who kills, or attempts to kill, or abets the killing of an elephant in protection of himself, his houses, or his crops, shall be liable to punishment under this section; and provided also that every person who in the like case captures, or attempts to capture, or abets the capture of an elephant, shall be exempt from fine under this section, but shall, if the elephant be captured, be bound to surrender it to Government, or to pay such royalty thereon as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon.

Powers of Collector.

4. Under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided—

Power to take charge of embankments.

(1.) The Collector may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or watercourse which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government.

Power to remove embankments and obstructions.

(2.) The Collector may cause to be removed or altered any embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment, or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

Power to change line of embankment.

(3.) The Collector may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any watercourse; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

Power to improve drainage.

(4.) The Collector may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public watercourse, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

Power to alter roads and construct watercourses

(5.) The Collector may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any watercourse under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the said Collector may cause the road to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road.

Applications for sluices to be made to Collector.

(6.) If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Collector of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Application for new embankment or drainage to be made to Collector.

(7.) Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new watercourse be made, or that any watercourse be obstructed or diverted, if such work is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public watercourse, he shall apply to the Collector, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Procedure.

5. When it shall appear expedient to the Collector that any of the works specified in the last preceding section should be executed, he shall cause to be prepared plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map showing the boundaries of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and he shall cause a proclamation to be issued giving notice of his intention to cause such works to be executed. Such proclamation shall be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act; and the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as aforesaid, shall be kept at the office of the Collector and shall be open to the inspection of any interested persons who shall be allowed to take copies thereof. Publication of proclamation.

6. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the cutcherry of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 57.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days

7. Every such proclamation shall be published not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Hearing of objections to works.

8. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall pass an order in regard to the execution of the proposed works. Notice of such order shall be served on such persons as may have appeared in pursuance of the proclamation.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the works are in different districts;

9. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district, within which any portion of such lands is situated, shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such works.

If the districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such works are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated, and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

The Collector may delegate certain powers to Engineer.

10. All the powers vested in the Collector by Section 4 of this Act, may be exercised by the Engineer in cases referred to him by the Collector subject to the general orders of the Collector.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

Proceedings in emergencies.

11. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of Section 4, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

Power to take possession of land.

12. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

Power to Engineer to act in absence of Collector.

14. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

Power to restore embankments, &c.

15. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Section 9 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

16. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

Engineer subject to control of Collector.

17. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

Power to make repairs.

18. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

Power to alter railroads or construct watercourses.

19. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad.

In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad.

Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Power to remove houses.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land;

to dig or bore into the sub-soil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer; or by the Collector;

Power to mark out line.

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon; to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches;

Power to clear land.

and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle.

Previous notice of entry.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect, of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Total sum payable.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. Apportionment amongst proprietors.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

46. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

From Honorary Secretary, British Indian Association, dated 19th July 1873.

We have received and considered the papers noted in the margin.

We have made numerous alterations in the draft of the Bill, restoring in many cases the language of Act II of 1870, for instance, in Sections 11, 14, 35, 38, 62, 73, 84, 94, 97, 99, 109, 111, 116, 117, 122, and 125. We have altered the definition of "emigrant" and of "magistrate," and in reference to the latter we have specified in Section 93 the sections under which a Subordinate Magistrate may be deputed to act.

We have omitted the provisions relating to evidence in Sections 28, 62, 63, 66, 106, and 133, and the references to the Penal Code in Sections 13, 103, 108, and 132. We have omitted Section 12, the Council of India having brought in a Bill to deal with the subject of it. We have also omitted the definition of "servant" from Section 3; Clauses 4, 15, and 16, from Section 5; and the following sections or parts of sections :—Sections 26, 34 (last part), 42, 65, 67, 83 (last part), 97, 109 (last part), 112, 116 (last sentence), 122 (proviso), 124 (last sentence), and 140.*

We have not required that a garden-sirdar should pay a fee for having his certificate countersigned under Section 19, or that a recruiter should pay a fee to the medical officer for a certificate under Section 45. We have slightly altered the constitution of the Labor Transport Fund to meet the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Section 308.

We have given power to a Magistrate to advance any sum which a garden-sirdar may be ordered to pay to an emigrant under Section 31, and to recover the amount from the employer with interest; and we have provided that interest shall be recoverable on sums advanced by a Magistrate under Sections 79, 80, 81, and 86.

We have reduced the amount of fine which may be imposed under Sections 66, 67, 72, 75, 77, and 94. We have given power to the Lieutenant-Governor to affix penalties to the breach of rules framed by him under Section 5, and we have provided that the penalties (if any) shall be published with the rules.

We have required (in Sections 22, 46) that the garden-sirdar or recruiter, as the case may be, shall produce his certificate or license when he appears with a recruit before a

Magistrate for registration. We have struck out the provision that a recruiter shall wear a badge. We have given the same power of cancelling the license or certificate of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar under Sections 21, 36, and 41. We have substituted the word "rice" for "food" in Sections 5 (clause 13), 17, 23, 46, and 114.

We have slightly modified Sections 67, 119, 120, and 135.

We have annexed as Schedules to the Act forms of a garden-sirdar's certificate of a contract between emigrant and employer, and of a certificate of release on determination of contract. We have omitted Schedule D.

We have also made many verbal alterations.

As I am going to England for three or four months, I shall be unable to sign the final report of the Select Committee, but having attended nearly all meetings up to this date, I wish to record my general assent to the Bill with the alterations and amendments agreed to by the Select Committee so far as they have at present been considered, viz. to Section 99.

B. D. COLVIN.

I agree to the report, but think that the objections raised to the Sections 105, 108 109, and 111 in Act II of 1870 (being part of the Bill, Sections 125, 126, 127, and 128,) still hold good.

ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 2nd September 1873.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Orissa Division for the year 1872-73.

The Lieutenant-Governor's very best thanks are due to Mr. Ravenshaw, the Commissioner of Orissa, for his full, exhaustive, and interesting report, showing as it does how thoroughly he has entered into the many questions affecting the welfare of the people, and how much he has carried his officers along with him in his administration. If he expresses himself somewhat too strongly when he differs from the views of Government, His Honor may accept his testimony as all the more valuable, when he gives an honest and discriminating account of those things in which success has been attained more or less completely. Mr. Beames, the Magistrate of Balasore, has very largely contributed to the interest of the report.

2. After a very careful consideration of the report, the Lieutenant-Governor's feeling is one of decided satisfaction. It shows that the people are on the whole comparatively prosperous and well off; that their condition is improving; and that so far the general outcome of the various administrative reforms is encouraging, and gives prospect of further improvement.

3. It is a great satisfaction to know that since the famine, a succession of favorable years has given continued ease to the province, and that in the year under report food was unusually cheap and plentiful. The partial calamities from flood, which are noticed in the report, have made prominent the better qualities of the people, their patience and industry under such circumstances; and these floods have happily not ended disastrously; their benefits (as the Lieutenant-Governor hoped at the time) having ultimately counterbalanced the injury done in the first instance. Great credit is due to Mr. Beames for his exertions on the occasion of the cyclone at Balasore, and to the irrigation and other officers at Cuttack for their successful exertions to save that city during the inundation.

4. The general testimony to the comparative well-doing of the people is, it cannot be denied, somewhat alloyed by several allusions to the poverty of a large landless laboring class; but on the other hand, not only are the great irrigation works throwing money into the country and giving employment to the people, but also the facilities of going abroad to districts where labor is well paid are increasing daily, and the extraordinary increase of the passenger traffic between Calcutta and Orissa by sea (of which Captain McNeile of the Celt was the pioneer) is a most healthy and gratifying sign that the people are more and more learning to help themselves. While this healthy seeking for labor is to be encouraged, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that the Magistrates have dealt energetically with fraudulent recruiters and others who decoy girls and simple-minded persons on false pretences.

5. Among other instruments of improvement, it is encouraging to gather from several notices that the Christian missions have effected, and are effecting, much practical good, and are benefiting both their own people and those around them. Mr. Beames has, during the year under report, located in the Government estate at Noanund a small batch of the orphans from Mr. Smith's establishment, and he observes that this little settlement is prospering. This is a very interesting experiment, and the settlement should be watched and cared for.

6. No opportunity should be lost to do what can be done to trace the coal and minerals which the Commissioner hopes to find in the neighbourhood of Cuttack and in the Khoorda sub-division of Pooree. The experiment of the Taljharee coal-fields will, it is hoped, be successfully continued next year.

7. In respect of trade and commerce, much has been done to open out Orissa in the last few years, and much more will be done as the canals and harbour arrangements are completed. There is good reason for believing that the province is now started on a course of increasing commercial prosperity. The Ooriyas are now much more in connection with the outer world than they were a few years ago. The number of vessels which visited Balasore during 1872-73 was 451 against 394 in 1871-72, and the year under report also shows an increase of about 3½ lakhs of rupees in the value of exports from Cuttack. There is, however, a decrease of about 1½ lakhs of rupees in Balasore. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the Commissioner will be able to give further details of trade statistics next year.

The sea exports of rice and paddy from Cuttack, Pooree, and Balasore, to foreign countries and British Indian ports, as obtained from the Collector of Customs in Calcutta, were as follows :—

Whither exported.	Cuttack.		Pooree.		Balasore.		Total.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
To foreign countries	8,736	11,934	6,286	7,921	8,667½	8,988	23,689½	38,843
„ British Indian ports beyond the Bengal Presidency.	91,396	1,30,363	1,37,950	1,85,629	1,85,262½	2,01,295	4,14,608½	5,17,287
Total ...	1,00,132	1,42,297	1,44,236	1,93,550	1,93,930	2,10,283	4,38,298	5,46,130

The above figures do not, however, include the exports to Calcutta or to any other port within the Bengal Presidency, the returns of which are not immediately available.

8. Considering how the zemindars of Orissa have been created by us, as is clearly shown in Mr. Toynbee's recent publication, and how, notwithstanding their great increase in wealth and the enlarged cultivation, the former easy settlement has been extended for another 30 years, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks their grumbling and complaints of a breach of faith (para. 48) because they do not also get constant remission of revenue besides, is most unreasonable and preposterous. It shows that there are some people who are only spoilt by indulgence. The conduct of too large a proportion of these men towards their tenantry makes it clear that, far from doing as they have been done by, they have sought to exact from those beneath them the uttermost farthing of that which had been forgiven to them by their lord. This, and great deal more besides, they have exacted. His Honor, however, is rejoiced to see that even already, independently of the measures which may eventually be adopted, much good has been effected by the exertions of Messrs. Beames, Fiddian, and of the Commissioner himself, and the way in which these officers have brought abuses to light entitles them to the highest credit. If their work is adequately followed up, the Government may hope that much will be done to stop abuses, and put the relations between the zemindars and the inferior holders in Orissa on a sounder footing, and one more consonant with the terms and conditions of the existing settlement.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor is very glad to see (paragraph 49) that many adjustments are now being effected by amicable compromise under the influence of the Government officers. The gist of Mr. Fiddian's remarks is, that the Ooriya ryots, who have hitherto been more than any of the class in helpless and ignorant subjection to the zemindars, are beginning to have some idea of their rights. He speaks of passive refusal to submit to unauthorized demands.

Even Baboo Umbica Churn Roy, the Deputy Collector of Jajipore, who writes more despondingly of the state of bondage in which the zemindars keep the ryots, admits that, although the zemindars have not given up levying illegal exactions, "yet they are doing it with much caution and less impunity."

10. Both for the record of tenures and rents; and for the collection of statistics, His Honor trusts that the fullest use will be made of the Canoongoe establishment which has now been re-organized and so liberally provided for, and he hopes that these ends will be farther secured by an efficient revival of the village accountants, the putwarees or old bhooeas. No lesson is more conclusively taught by Orissa experience than this, that the most careful and just settlement (such as the Orissa settlement in its origin was), and the most accurate record of rights, soon become totally useless if they are not kept alive by an adequate machinery, such as the wisdom of the old Indian races provided, but which in these provinces we had let go to rack and ruin.

The introduction of printed receipts, instead of the immethodical old palm leaf receipts, as described in paragraph 56 of the report, is a measure which cannot fail to produce beneficial results His Honor desires that it may be made as universal as possible.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor has seen with pleasure the testimony which is borne in more than one passage of the report to the substantial success of the road cess proceedings. Balasore has been the first district in which the cess has been actually collected, and the whole process, valuations and collections have been admirably and successfully managed by Mr. Beames.

It is gratifying to observe testimony to the somewhat unexpected fact, which has also cropped up in the eastern districts, that not unfrequently the road cess proceedings are beneficial, and are recognized by the people as such, inasmuch as they afford a record of rents and holdings, and a starting point from which accurate facts may be derived. The paragraph quoted in the margin, giving the Commissioner's own opinion of the situation on a review of all the district reports seems both true and on the whole satisfactory.

"Road Cess proceedings have, I think, facilitated the ascertainment by zemindars of their actual position and rights, and the necessity for filing returns in the Road Cess Department has certainly been beneficial in bringing zemindars' rent-rolls and accounts into more definite and satisfactory form. I do not pretend to say that the road cess is popular, but it has been looked on as an inevitable necessity, and it has been accepted as such. Except in Balasore, we have not come face to face with the actual realization of the tax; but, so far as I am able to judge, I think it will be realized without any very great difficulty, and it is becoming known that the Government tax is the only tax or cess of any sort legally leviable by the zemindars."

12. The Lieutenant-Governor has perused with satisfaction the Commissioner's thoughtful and just remarks regarding the new irrigation system. He is gratified to know that recent reforms have proved so beneficial. He much hopes that things have really taken the favorable turn that is represented, and that, as said by the Commissioner, "by care and patience steadily persevering in the new system, much improvement to the country and people may surely be achieved, and possibly in the end some financial return for the outlay may be obtained." His Honor is very well pleased with Mr. Toynbee for what he has done to put the canal revenue system into form and shape.

The subject of protection from floods, so necessary in Orissa, has now been combined with the irrigation works, and all that science can do is being brought to bear upon the subject.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor is very glad to observe the Commissioner's testimony to the success of the new system of education, so far as it has yet gone, as summed up in his own words.* The local officers have all worked well in this direction.

* Para. 146.—"Good solid work has been and is being done, and the wise and beneficient policy of Government in making education more practical, and bringing knowledge within reach of the mass of the people, has not only obtained the cordial approval and earnest co-operation of every class, but the results are already beginning to be felt and appreciated."

14. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that in Cuttack, during the year under report, two newspapers were started, the Utkul Dwipica and Utkul Putra. In Balasore a new magazine, the Utkul Durpun, or Mirror of Orissa, was also first published. Of these papers the Utkul Dwipica and Balasore Putrika have met with considerable support.

It seems that though the newspapers in Orissa have little influence, they are actuated on the whole by a healthy feeling, and their publication may be taken as an evidence of the awakening intelligence of the Ooriyas, when it is recollected that in many other and richer districts there are no newspapers at all.

15. The working of statistics in this division, calculated to throw light on the condition of the people, has, generally speaking, been well started. The census and road cess valuation have been great works, and with the re-organized Canoongoes and other establishments the Government now have in Orissa, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that much will be done towards the various inquiries now in progress, and that many agricultural statistics will be collected, as well as some accurate vital statistics.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor was never sanguine of speedily and strikingly succeeding with experimental farms. The small farm system originally suggested by Mr. Ravenshaw and his officers is one in which His Honor is much interested, and on the whole the Commissioner's account is not without hope.

The practical experiments of Mr. Taylor will no doubt have good effect. This is precisely the manner in which it is hoped that improvements introduced by experimental farms will work. His Honor notices with interest (paragraph 91) the practical work on agriculture and gardening which has been published by Baboo Beechitra Nund Dass.

17. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes soon to be able to complete the Grand Trunk Road causeways which are now much needed. In respect to local roads His Honor trusts that the road cess will soon work great improvements.

18. The liberality of the Maharajah of Burdwan in giving land for the False Point harbour work has been favourably noticed by the Lieutenant-Governor, and he trusts that Government will soon possess really good harbours in Orissa which will make it impossible that that province should again be cut off as it was in 1866.

19. Mr. Ravenshaw urges the necessity for establishing local medical schools to train the natives of the province—a course which, if adopted, would make the dispensaries more popular than they are at present while officered by native doctors from Calcutta, who do not sympathise with the people. A scheme of this nature has been under contemplation by Government for Dacca and Patna, and if the Commissioner will submit any practicable and moderate suggestion within the means of Government for Cuttack, the Lieutenant-Governor will give it early consideration.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad that the Commissioner paused before he said, "what he was going to say," in paragraph 156 marginally noted, and that on consideration he began to think that the people may be educated into taking an interest in their own affairs, and expressed himself as in his next paragraph. What he says of the first healthy sign of interest being manifested by the educational committees, exactly corresponds to testimony to the same effect from other parts of the country.

"Road Cess Committees, Municipal Committees, and I was going to say every other committee, are, I fear, a solemn farce."

"I have observed a growing tendency in educational committees every where to take some interest in the subject. I trust this may develop, and I think it is likely to do so; and, now that Road Cess and Municipal Committee members find they have a real and substantial control over their respective funds, it is not improbable they may follow suit."

21. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with approval the excellent example which two zemindars, Baboo Koylas Chunder Roy Mohashoy and Baboo Nemy Churn Bose, have set to their neighbours, standing out as they do conspicuously among so many who have misused their influence, power, and position.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor's very hearty thanks are accorded to the Commissioner for all his zealous and successful labors. No one has the good of the people committed to his charge more thoroughly at heart, or has better labored for them for a series of years, than Mr. Ravenshaw.

His Honor especially acknowledges the services rendered by Mr. Beames in the district of Balasore. Mr. Macpherson was very sound and sensible, and His Honor can say with the Commissioner that his work when done, was well done; but he is sorry to gather that there were delays in his work, which was not always done, and that Mr. Macpherson failed to move actively about his district. His Honor much regrets to see that the interior of the Cuttack district has been so little visited during the year under review, and desires that the Commissioner will be so good as to make arrangements beforehand which shall ensure the Collector and other officers making effectual tours in the ensuing cold season. Mr. Beames' account of his tour shows how much may be done by an intelligent officer who really endeavours to put himself into communication with the people. The Commissioner's tour during the year under review was very complete and satisfactory.

23. Mr. Toynbee's work on Orissa has now been published. It is a work of permanent value, of which the Lieutenant-Governor has elsewhere expressed his high opinion and acknowledgments. His Honor will watch with interest the completion of the histories of Cuttack, Pooree, and Balasore, which are under preparation.

24. Since the close of the year under review the Lieutenant-Governor has had to deplore the death of Mr. V. Irwin, the Officiating Collector of Cuttack, which has deprived Orissa of the services of a valuable and much esteemed officer.

STATE OF CROPS IN BENGAL.

Circular No. 70, dated Calcutta, the 13th October 1873.

From—The Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Statistical Department,

To—All Commissioners and District Officers.

THE early cessation of the rains having unhappily given reason to fear that in many districts some of the crops will be very short, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that particular care should be taken to keep Government fully informed of the actual result of the harvest in the different parts of the country, so far as can be ascertained. His Honor does not wish to have minute inquiries made, but district and sub-divisional officers are desired to see the crops as much as possible themselves while yet on the ground, so as to form the best estimate they can of the proportionate yield of such description of crop and of the food-crops generally, as compared with average and previous years. Agriculturists are so apt to exaggerate their losses that the greatest care should be taken to ascertain accurately the real yield of the harvest at the time, so as to be able hereafter to check their estimates. The success with which this work is accomplished must depend much on the activity and good sense of individual officers, and the Lieutenant-Governor would urge on them the importance of carefully attending to the instructions given. Of course the state of things will often vary much in different parts of the same district, and it will be the duty of the district officer to compare and compile the report from his various subordinates, and in forwarding a summary of them to give a general view of the aspect of affairs.

2. The weekly weather and crop report should be prepared with special care, and during the period from now up to the end of the harvest, the particulars given in the column "State and prospect of the crops at date" should be more than ordinarily full and accurate. Further, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that in the first weeks of November, December and January, a special crop report should be sent for each district by the Magistrate-Collector, showing in greater detail what is known of the state of the crops at the time. These reports should be in duplicate, one copy being sent to the Bengal Office direct, and the other to the Commissioner. The price-current statement should also be prepared with particular care at the present season; recent price-currents received from districts, where serious failure of the crops was said to be imminent, have showed no sign of rising prices.

3. Although much has lately been said in the Annual Report regarding the produce and circumstances of various districts, the Lieutenant-Governor is desirous of having precise information concerning the nature and extent of the gross yield in a uniform shape. Officers are therefore requested to furnish the following particulars, not only for their whole districts, but separately for each considerable part of their districts, which may have any very special features of its own :—

(1) How far the district (or tract) is devoted to food-growing crops, and what proportion (if considerable) of its land is taken by any staples other than food.

(2) Whether it exports or imports food; and if it imports, from where.

(3) What are the main food-staples of the people, and, roughly, in what proportions they are consumed.

(4) What are the various rice-crops of the district or tract (such as aus or amun dhan, &c.); at what season are they reaped, and, roughly, what proportion of the whole rice produce each crop represents in an average year.

(5) The estimated outturn for the present year of each important food-crop which has reached or approached maturity (the different rice-crops being distinguished)— a.—As compared with an average year (e.g., half or three-quarters as the case may be).

b.—As compared with any previous short year which can be named.

(6) State and prospects of the ensuing cold weather food-crops, and the degree to which people may be expected to derive support from them.

(7) Date, under favorable circumstances, of sowing and reaping of the earliest rice-crop of 1874, and the extent to which the cultivation might be increased to meet a pressing demand.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to be supplied with these particulars, as far as possible, in the special report for the first week of November, the information being repeated with improved exactness in the reports of the following months; and His Honor hopes that all officers will give special care and attention to the matter, and endeavour to give accurate and full information on the points above noticed.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 11th October 1873.

BENGAL
	Western Districts.	1873
BURDWAN DIVISION. 1	Burdwan	Oct 14th*	0 41	Next to no rain has fallen in the district.	Crops seriously injured	Price of rice greatly increased Fever as before.
2	Bancoorah	„ 11th	Nil	Dry and clear up to the 10th, when clouds appeared; on the 11th there was some rain in parts of the district.	Suffering much from want of rain, of the approach of which there are however some appearances.
3	Beerbhoom	„ 11th	Nil	Weather up to 9th instant clear and bright, with cold north wind Since 9th the wind has changed to the south and there appears some prospect of rain.	The prospects of the crops are becoming daily worse owing to the continued drought An early fall of rain may, however, still save about half the harvest.
4	Midnapore	„ 11th	Nil	No rain, but clouds gathering since Thursday morning The sky is, however, entirely overclouded and it seems probable that copious rain is going to fall, and has already perhaps fallen in parts of the district Indeed there are some grounds to fear that a violent wind storm may be impending	Unless rain falls within a few days, there will be great distress throughout the north of the district and only ¾ crop in the south.
5	Hooghly	„ 11th	0 60	Clear throughout; a smart shower on the morning of the 11th instant.	Up to the 10th instant the prospects of the rice crop could not have been worse. No rain having fallen since the 14th September, and the cold weather having set in, the late rice crop showed signs of withering and fears are entertained that nothing could save the crop Early this morning however more than half an inch of rain fell, and there are signs of more rain. There is still therefore hope, but unless more rain comes, the rice cannot live except where there are artificial means of irrigation. The jute crop has been good; sugarcane very fair.
	Howrah	„ 11th	Nil	No rain during the week under report.	Transplantation of the late paddy seedling has been completed. The paddy plants are suffering from want of rain. Sugarcane crop is also suffering
	Central Districts
PRESIDENCY DIVISION. 6	24 Pergunnahs	„ 14th*	0 26	Hot during the day, nights a little cooler, occasionally cloudy.	The drought has done much damage to the late rice on high lands, and unless there be an early and heavy fall of rain, the loss will be serious; about one quarter of the crop at Diamond Harbour sub division is reported to be already past saving.	Ordinary fever prevails largely at Sathkhira, and fever of malarious character has appeared at Barrepore

* Telegram of the 14th October received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
PRESIDENCY DIVISION.—(Contd.)
7	Nuddea ...	Oct. 11th	Nil	A little rain in a few scattered places, but generally very dry and hot in the days and cool at night. Clouds are gathering, and there is some reason to hope for a downpour.	The late rice has been very much burnt by the heat; indigo sowings have been prevented, and the state of things is not favorable for the cold weather crops Rain is very badly wanted.
8	Jessore ..	„ 11th	Nil	Cool and clear, with wind varying from north-west to north-east.	The want of rain and the early subsidence of the inundation are causing some anxiety. On the 11th a change took place in the direction of wind, and a cloudy sky hold out hopes that rain may fall before long.
9	Moorshedabad ...	„ 11th	Nil	Weather much cooler, but no rain during the week.	The prospects of the late rice are very gloomy. The crops are drying up everywhere except on the very low lands. Scarcity of grain is already felt in the bazars. The winter crops are being sown in hopes of rain. Distress may be expected, especially in the west.
RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.
10	Dinagepore ...	„ 11th	Nil	Fine and no symptoms of rain.	Almost as bad as they can be; the rice that has been planted is dying everywhere for want of rain, and unless rain does fall, there will be scarcely any rice at all. Even with rain the crop must be a very short one.
11	Maldah ...	„ 11th	Nil	Fair; days hot and nights rather cold. Last day slightly cloudy.	Unless there is rain within the next week, the rice crop on the high lands will be very bad. The cold weather crops are being sown.
12	Rajshahye ...	„ 11th	Nil	There has been no rain throughout the district during the past week.	The prospects of the late rice crop are extremely unfavourable in consequence of the complete cessation of the rains. Land is now being ploughed for cold weather crops. Tobacco, pulses, and (teel) oil-seed, are thriving.	A few cases of small pox have been reported from Charghat station.
13	Rungpore ..	.....	...	.....	.....	Return not received.
14	Bograh ..	„ 11th	Nil	Somewhat hot and dry ...	Unless rain falls soon, the rice crop will fail, except on low lands. The yield of jute is reported fair; sugarcane is doing fairly.	There has been a sudden rise of prices and much anxiety among the people. There has been, however a small fall in the price of rice.
15	Pubna ..	„ 11th	0·08	Weather cool, with one little shower of rain on the 4th instant.	The prospect of the late rice and (teel) oil-seed fair in the sudder, but somewhat bad in Serajgunge sub-division. Rain is wanted for the late rice. Indigo and pulses are being sown.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.
16	Darjeeling ..	„ 11th	Nil	Bright sunny weather, cold in the mornings and evenings, but warm during the day.	The potato crop in the hills is now being gathered in, and although the plants have to all appearance been very promising, the yield has been considerably less than was anticipated, and the potato has not been so fine as usual, but no serious results will ensue. Other crops doing well.

	Central District.—(Contd.)	1873.
Cooch Behar Divn. 17	Julpigoree ..	Oct. 11th	Nil	Bright sunny weather ..	Rain wanted, otherwise the rice crop will not be a full one.
	Cooch Behar ..	„ 11th	Nil	Fine ...	In a great part of the district the late rice crop will be a very poor one owing to want of rain. In other parts the crop has a flourishing appearance. The rainfall has been very unequal.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Division. 18	Dacca ..	„ 14th*	0 20	Weather.—Occasional showers, but on the whole dry.	Late rice ruined; heavy and continuous rain would still save a part.
19	Furreedpore ..	„ 11th	Nil	Bright sunny and pleasant during the first six days, but the last day hot, close, and very cloudy, rain not unlikely. A little rain has fallen on the 11th, and it looks as if it would be fairly plentiful.	The crops on the low lands on the whole doing well. Rain much wanted.
20	Backergunge ..	„ 11th	Nil	Cool in the mornings and evenings, but very hot in the middle of the day.	The late rice is beginning to suffer from want of rain, and if the drought continues, the crop will probably be a poor one. There is much less water in the district this year than there was last year, and many boat channels are closed in consequence.
21	Mymensing ..	„ 11th	Nil	Bright and clear, with symptoms of the approach of the cold weather. Cloudy on the 11th and promising rain.	Very unfavorable
22	Sylhet ..	„ 4th	2·84	Close during the day, almost chilly at night and towards the early morning.	The crops on the high lands are not promising. A little rain even now will save the crops.
23	Cachar ..	„ 4th	1·	Hot and sultry, with slight rain.	The rainfall is still too small, and more would be desirable.
Chittagong Division. 24	Chittagong .	„ 4th	1 04	Cloudy. Showers during the week.	Crops improved by rain during the week. Good accounts from the district generally Kootoobdia.—Prospects improved, sea water has subsided there, and things look better than anticipated No report from Cox's Bazar.
25	Noakhally .	„ 4th	1·82	Weather variable, at times cool and pleasant, sometimes hot and close	Transplanting of the winter rice completed.
26	Tipperah ...	„ 11th	0·03	Nights and early mornings cool, days close and oppressive.	Indifferent. The rice crop along a broad belt of land through the centre of the district is almost hopeless. Rain is wanted everywhere, and it should fall judging from the sky.
27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 4th	3·	Generally cool and pleasant owing to the occasional falls of rain	About one-half of the paddy crop of the district has been harvested and the remainder is being gathered. The paddy crop has not been very successful; there is however no fear of scarcity. The cotton is in flower, and bids fair to be plentiful. Melons and pumpkins are ripening, and are sold plentifully in the local markets.
	Hill Tipperah ...	„ 4th	0·3	Excessively hot ..	Prospects fair. Rain very much wanted.

BEHAR.		1873.
PATNA DIVISION.
28	Patna ..	Oct. 13th*	Nil	No rain has fallen as yet	Prospects of crops daily getting worse.	Special inquiry by means of subordinate executive officers is being made. The health of the district continues good.
29	Gya ..	„ 11th	Nil	Fair and cold .	Prospects very gloomy. Rain urgently wanted throughout the district. Rice very much injured, and no moisture in lands for the cold weather sowings.
30	Shahabad .	„ 11th	Nil	Clear and dry; nights cool; east wind set in since last two days; the change, it is hoped, may bring rain.	Prospects bad. Rice steadily dying, except in the few places where it can be irrigated. In the Sasseeram sub-division it is being irrigated as much as possible. Elsewhere the crops must fail. Rain is very much wanted in order to prepare lands for the winter crops. It can do little towards saving the rice now.
31	Tirhoot ..	„ 11th	Nil	Hot .	The drought still continues, the prospect of rice crops is very gloomy; if in the course of a few days rain does not fall, preparation of much of the land for winter crop will be impossible.	Prices are rising.
32	Sarun	„ 11th	Nil	Days moderately hot, but the mornings and evenings cool. West wind prevailing.	The prospects of the late rice are getting worse daily owing to absence of rain. No moisture to prepare land for the winter crops. Ruhur—pulse, cotton, and sugar-cane, are, however, progressing favorably.	Price of food-grains is rising.
33	Chumparun ..	„ 11th	Nil	Hot days and cool nights, variable winds.	The prospects of the crops are very unfavorable owing to the continued want of rain. The rice has suffered very considerably; should rain not fall shortly, anxiety for the ensuing year will be felt.	Price of common rice is steadily rising.
BHAUGULPORE DIVISION.
34	Monghyr .	„ 11th	Nil	Premature cold weather apparently set in On the 11th sky cloudy, and there appears some prospects of rain.	Rice crops on high lands withered or withering If rain falls within a few days, half the rice crop may be saved, otherwise not more than a four-anna crop can be expected; rain is everywhere wanted.
35	Bhaugulpore ..	„ 14th†	Nil	Rain most urgently required.	There is time yet to save a good deal of low land rice: without rain, crops will be very bad.	General health very good.
36	Purneah .	„ 11th	Nil	Hot days and cold nights	The harvest prospects are as bad as last week; land is being prepared for cold weather sowings.
37	Sonthal Pergunnahs	„ 11th	Nil	No rain anywhere; clouds about the last two days, with warmer weather.	The rain stopped very early and very suddenly. If there is no more rain, a very fine crop of rice will be greatly spoiled; the tanks are very low; irrigation begun everywhere.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.
38	Cuttack ..	„ 14th†	1·42	Rain throughout the district since Friday.	Much good has been done to late rice crop, but much more rain required.	Public health good.
39	Pooree ...	„ 4th	0·27	Hot . ..	Weeding and transplanting in the late rice fields of some pergunnahs are still going on. Rain is much wanted. Early rice and (teel) oil-seed crops are being reaped. The prospects of cold weather crops continue favorable.

ORISSA.—(Contd.)		1873.
ORISSA DIVN.—(Contd.) 40	Balasore ..	Oct. 11th	0·76	Copious rain on the 10th and 11th October at the Sudder Station.	Abundance of rain has fallen at the sudder station. If the rainfall has been general throughout the district, it will remove the grave apprehension of failure and scarcity which the obstinate drought continued since the middle of September had given rise to.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency
41	Hazareebaugh	„ 11th	Nil	Very fine, light clouds gathered at the latter end of the week, giving hopes of rain.	There is nothing special to report. On the west of the district there has been less rain than about the sudder and to the north. One more heavy shower is what is wanted to ensure an abundant rice harvest.	Rinderpest appeared in two villages north of the Grand Trunk Road, but it has subsided. No cholera. Small-pox is still reported here and there.
42	Lohardugga .	„ 11th	Nil	Bright and clear and cold in the mornings and evenings. Since the 10th the wind has been from the east, and there is appearance of rain coming.	Rain is urgently required both in Chota Nagpore and Palamow, and if there is not a good fall shortly, prospects will alter seriously for the worse.
43	Singbhoom ..	„ 4th	0·76	Most part of the week was dry. An abundant shower of rain on the night of the 2nd instant. Sky again quite cloudless, but weather cooler.	Much the same as last week More rain wanted to fill the ears of paddy. If the rain of the 2nd has been general over the district, it will do a world of good in improving the prospects of the crops.	A good deal of fever about.
44	Maunbhoom	„ 11th	Nil	Very unfavorable ..	The prospects of the crops are much worse than at the close of the last week; there has been no rain, and consequently the crops are suffering severely, especially those on high lands, which are withering away for want of moisture; if rain does not fall almost immediately, the rice crop will fail and great scarcity, if not famine, will be the result.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah .	„ 4th	0·47	A few slight showers of rain during the first part of the week, the latter part was clear and sunny. Mornings moderately cool and sometimes foggy.	The late rain has a little benefited the crops, but more rain is still wanted.
46	Kamroop ...	„ 13th*	Nil	Weather clear, cold mornings and nights.	Rice crops and tea backward for want of rain. Cotton, sugarcane, and pulse crops progressing fairly.	Public health good.
47	Durrung ...	„ 4th	1·26	Cool nights and mornings, frequent fogs. Little or no breeze.	Rain much wanted in some quarters, all crops requiring it more or less. Tea doing pretty well.
48	Nowgong ..	„ 4th	0·29	Weather clear, fair, and settled, with cool mornings and nights, and every appearance of an early cold season	The late rice crop doing fairly, but more rain wanted to ensure a bumper crop. Tea operations very favorable.	General health excellent. No epidemic.
49	Seebsaugor ..	„ 4th	0·98	The weather was slightly warm. There was very little rain only on two days in the week.	The prospects of the rice crops have much improved. Tea doing well.

* Telegram of the 13th October received on the 14th. Shows the rainfall during the seven days including the 13th idem.

ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
50	Luckimpore	Oct. 4th	3·82	The mornings and evenings during the week were pleasantly cool; there was heavy rain on two days.	Crops doing only pretty well.
51	Naga Hills	Sept. 27th	0·54	Cool and pleasant all over the district.	The most of the early joom paddy has been cut and stored, a fair outturn has been gathered The late joom and cotton crop promise well. Terrai paddy crop promises to be a fair one.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	Oct. 4th	0·34	The weather has been fine, with slight showers of rain.	The early rice crop is being housed and all other standing crops, late paddy, millets, potatoes, &c., are doing well. The cotton is backward for want of rain.
53	Garo Hills	„ 4th	6·	Very heavy rain on Sunday night, thunder and lightning The rest of the week has been fine and very hot.	The cold weather rice crops under the hills look pretty good, but less land appears to have been brought under cultivation this year than last owing to the want of rain. Had the rain which has fallen of late come earlier, it would have done far more good. Cotton crop seems very good. Some heavy crops of jute on the plains are being gathered. The ground is being prepared for the mustard crop.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

THE following Bill as settled by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, on the 13th September 1873, is by order of the President published for general information.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Embankments and Watercourses.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the better construction, maintenance, and management of embankments and watercourses in the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal Embankment Act, 1873."

It extends to the whole of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, except the province of Orissa and the Soonderbuns as defined under the provisions of Clause 2, Section 13, Regulation III of 1828.

And it shall come into force on the day of the passing thereof.

Repeal of former Acts.

2. From such day Act No. XXXII of 1855 (relating to embankments) and Bengal Act No. VII of 1866 (to make better provision for the acquisition of land for embankments and other matters relating thereto) shall, except so far as relates to the province of Orissa and the said Soonderbuns, be repealed.

Interpretation.

3. The following words shall, for the purposes of this Act, have the meanings hereby declared, save where, from the context, a contrary intention appears:—

"Estate."

"Estate" means—(1) Any land or share in land subject to the payment to Government of an annual sum, in respect of which the name of a proprietor is entered on the register, known as the general register of all revenue-paying estates, or in respect of which a separate account may, in pursuance of Section 10, or Section 11 of Act XI of 1859, have been opened;

(2) Any land entered in the register of revenue-free tenures;

(3) Any land acquired under any rules issued by or under authority of Government for the sale, grant, or clearance of waste lands.

"Embankment."

"Embankment" includes every bank, dam, wall, and dyke, made or used for excluding water from, or for retaining water upon, any land, and every sluice, spur, groyne, training wall, or other work annexed to or portion of any such embankment, and every bank, dam, dyke, wall, groyne or spur made or erected for the protection of any such embankment or of any land from erosion or overflow by or of rivers, tides, waves, or waters; and also all buildings intended for purposes of inspection and supervision.

"Watercourse."

"Watercourse" includes a line of drainage, weir, culvert, pipe, or other channel for the passage of water, whether natural or artificial.

"Zemindar." "Zemindar" means all or any of the holders of an estate; and where two or more zemindars are jointly holders thereof, they shall be jointly and severally liable under this Act.

"Tenure." "Tenure" includes all interests in land other than estates as above defined, held permanently at a fixed rental, or held lakhiraj.

"Proprietor." "Proprietor" means the holder of a tenure.

"Public Embankment." "Public Embankment" means an embankment maintained by the officers of Government.

"Public watercourse." "Public watercourse" means any watercourse under the charge of the officers of Government.

"The Engineer." "The Engineer" means the District Engineer or any Engineer specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of an Engineer under this Act.

"Collector." "Collector" means any Collector, Deputy Collector or other Revenue Officer in independent charge of any district or portion of a district, or specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

"District." "District" means the portion of territory throughout which any person vested with the powers of a Collector is authorized to exercise such powers.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon.

Powers of Collector. 4. Under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided—

Power to take charge of embankments. (1.) The Collector may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or watercourse which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government.

Power to remove embankments and obstructions. (2.) The Collector may cause to be removed or altered any embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment, or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

Power to change line of embankment. (3.) The Collector may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any watercourse; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

Power to improve drainage. (4.) The Collector may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public watercourse, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

Power to alter roads and construct watercourses. (5.) The Collector may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any watercourse under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the said Collector may cause the road to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road.

Applications for sluices to be made to Collector. (6.) If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Collector of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Application for new embankment or drainage to be made to Collector. (7.) Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new watercourse be made, or that any watercourse be obstructed or diverted, if such work is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public watercourse, he shall apply to the Collector, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Procedure. 5. When it shall appear expedient to the Collector that any of the works specified in the last preceding section should be executed, he shall cause to be prepared plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map showing the boundaries of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and he shall cause a proclamation to be issued giving notice of his intention to cause such works to be executed. Such proclamation shall be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act; and the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as aforesaid, shall be kept at the office of the Collector and shall be open to the inspection of any interested persons who shall be allowed to take copies thereof. The Collector shall not commence any of such works until final order made in respect thereto under the provisions of Sections 8, 59, and 60 of this Act.

Publication of proclamation. 6. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the cutcherry of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 57.

7. Every such proclamation shall be published not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days.

8. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall pass an order in regard to the execution of the proposed works. Notice of such order shall be served on such persons as may have appeared in pursuance of the proclamation.

Hearing of objections to works.

9. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district, within which any portion of such lands is situated, shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such works.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the works are in different districts;

If the districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such works are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated, and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

or different divisions.

10. All the powers vested in the Collector by Section 4 of this Act, may be exercised by the Engineer in cases referred to him by the Collector subject to the general orders of the Collector.

The Collector may delegate certain powers to Engineer.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

11. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of Section 4, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

Proceedings in emergencies.

12. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

Power to take possession of land.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

14. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

Power to Engineer to act in absence of Collector.

15. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Power to restore embankments, &c.

16. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

Section 9 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

17. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

Engineer subject to control of Collector.

18. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

Power to make repairs.

19. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad.

Power to alter railroads or construct watercourses.

In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad.

Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Power to remove houses.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act,

Previous notice of entry.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule: Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each proportion of the expenses of the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Total sum payable.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect, of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 6 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

Parties liable to pay.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

Names of proprietors.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

Apportionment amongst zemindars.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Proviso in respect of the pergunnahs in Schedule (E.)

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

Apportionment amongst proprietors.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

Apportionment where the lands held without payment of rent, not being estates on the register of revenue-free tenures.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

Amount apportioned payable by instalments.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

Final order of apportionment.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

Orders for payment.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

Recovery from zemindars.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

Recovery by zemindars or proprietors.

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and [illegible] of Regulation III of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1885, provided that the liability to increase, by any person holding from the proprietor of such tenure, shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

From Honorary Secretary, British Indian Association, dated 19th July 1873.

We have received and considered the papers noted in the margin.

We have made numerous alterations in the draft of the Bill, restoring in many cases the language of Act II of 1870, for instance, in Sections 11, 14, 35, 38, 62, 73, 84, 94, 97, 99, 109, 111, 116, 117, 122, and 125. We have altered the definition of "emigrant" and of "magistrate," and in reference to the latter we have specified in Section 93 the sections under which a Subordinate Magistrate may be deputed to act.

We have omitted the provisions relating to evidence in Sections 28, 62, 63, 66, 106, and 133, and the references to the Penal Code in Sections 13, 103, 108, and 132. We have omitted Section 12, the Council of India having brought in a Bill to deal with the subject of it. We have also omitted the definition of "servant" from Section 3; Clauses 4, 15, and 16, from Section 5; and the following sections or parts of sections :—Sections 26, 34 (last part), 42, 65, 67, 83 (last part), 97, 109 (last part), 112, 116 (last sentence), 122 (proviso), 124 (last sentence), and 140.*

We have not required that a garden-sirdar should pay a fee for having his certificate countersigned under Section 19, or that a recruiter should pay a fee to the medical officer for a certificate under Section 45. We have slightly altered the constitution of the Labor Transport Fund to meet the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Section 308.

We have given power to a Magistrate to advance any sum which a garden-sirdar may be ordered to pay to an emigrant under Section 31, and to recover the amount from the employer with interest; and we have provided that interest shall be recoverable on sums advanced by a Magistrate under Sections 79, 80, 81, and 86.

We have reduced the amount of fine which may be imposed under Sections 66, 67, 72, 75, 77, and 94. We have given power to the Lieutenant-Governor to affix penalties to the breach of rules framed by him under Section 5, and we have provided that the penalties (if any) shall be published with the rules.

We have required (in Sections 22, 46) that the garden-sirdar or recruiter, as the case may be, shall produce his certificate or license when he appears with a recruit before a

Magistrate for registration. We have struck out the provision that a recruiter shall wear a badge. We have given the same power of cancelling the license or certificate of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar under Sections 21, 36, and 41. We have substituted the word "rice" for "food" in Sections 5 (clause 13), 17, 23, 46, and 114.

We have slightly modified Sections 67, 119, 120, and 135.

We have annexed as Schedules to the Act forms of a garden-sirdar's certificate of a contract between emigrant and employer, and of a certificate of release on determination of contract. We have omitted Schedule D.

We have also made many verbal alterations.

As I am going to England for three or four months, I shall be unable to sign the final report of the Select Committee, but having attended nearly all meetings up to this date, I wish to record my general assent to the Bill with the alterations and amendments agreed to by the Select Committee so far as they have at present been considered, viz. to Section 99.

B. D. COLVIN.

I agree to the report, but think that the objections raised to the Sections 105, 108 109, and 111 in Act II of 1870 (being part of the Bill, Sections 125, 126, 127, and 128,) still hold good.

Garden-sirdar must provide food and lodging for emigrants on journey.

31. Every garden-sirdar, by whom any emigrant is accompanied, shall provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout such journey. If it shall appear to any magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant, at any place on the journey that he has suffered any ill-treatment during the journey or that the garden-sirdar has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging; or if it be found on examination by a medical officer appointed by a magistrate for such purpose, that any such emigrant is not in a fit state of health to proceed to or to labor in a labor-district; such magistrate may order the garden sirdar to pay to such emigrant a sum of money by way of compensation, or may cancel the contract and order the garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged.

If such not provided, or if emigrant unfit, magistrate may award compensation, or cancel contract.

The superintendent of emigration shall, on the appearance of such emigrant, declare that the contract is cancelled, if a sum of money sufficient for his support during his return to the place at which he was engaged, be paid to him before himself, and not otherwise, and shall make an endorsement to that effect on the contract, and shall attest it with his signature. In addition to the depôts for the reception of emigrants which the contractors are required to establish and maintain, the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time direct that a separate depôt shall be established and maintained at any place for the reception of emigrants who are affected with cholera or other contagious disease. Whenever such hospital depôt is established, every contractor may be required to contribute to the expense of establishing and maintaining it in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back.

57. If the medical inspector shall cerify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract or his agent. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours send notice thereof in writing to the inspectors and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Inspector how to proceed on receipt of notice, or if complaint is made to him, or if he has reason to believe that there is ground for a complaint.

131. Whenever any inspector of laborer receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Procedure.
Penalty for obstructing service of, or disobedience to, summons.

132. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

If complaint is untrue or frivolous.

133. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

If complaint is well founded.

134. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

Recovery of arrears of wages.

135. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and Compensation may be given if arrear is for two months.

also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer.

Contract may be declared cancelled, if employer is convicted of maltreatment by session court, or twice by magistrate;

136. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the said Code by a magistrate; or if wages are in arrear for four months;

or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any laborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

Chapter 16.—Determination of Contract.

Laborer may appear before the inspector to register completion of contract.

137. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector or assistant inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered.

Penalty if employer detains, or omits to report.

If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Power to redeem contract.

138. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Value of unexpired term of contract.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

Certificate to be given of determination of contract.

139. Every laborer the period of whose contract has expired, or whose contract has been rescinded by the mutual consent of the parties thereto, or whose contract has been cancelled or redeemed under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in the form set forth in Schedule (F) annexed to this Act.

THE following Supplementary Report of the Select Committee on the "Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service therein," is published for general information :—

WE, the Select Committee on the "Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract-labor and service therein," have read and considered the correspondence noted in the margin relating to a proposal by the Lieutenant-Governor to provide for the gradual introduction of a system of free recruiting of laborers for the labor districts.

The Committee are unanimously of opinion that the systems of free recruiting and recruiting under the Act cannot work side by side. They do not feel themselves able, on the materials before them, to recommend that Cachar or any other district should be exempted from the operation of the Act, or to make any specific recommendation to the Council on the general subject.

PART VI.

Bills of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

THE following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th October 1873, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to make their report thereon in a month :—

No. 20 of 1873.

A Bill to provide for the liquidation of the debts of the Nawáb Názim of Bengal, and for his protection against legal process.

Preamble.

Whereas divers large pecuniary claims have been made against Savyad Mansur Alí, the present Nawáb Názim of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, commonly called the Nawáb Názim, which he has not the means of satisfying, and for the purpose of recovering such claims divers suits have been brought against him, and divers attachments have been issued against his property in India :

And whereas the Government of India is desirous of freeing the said Nawáb Názim and his property respectively from such suits and attachments, and of discharging such of the said claims as are proper to be paid :

And whereas in the meantime and for the future, it is expedient to exempt the said Nawáb Názim, except as hereinafter mentioned, from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts, and to render him incapable of contracting further pecuniary obligations ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Nawáb Nazím's Debts Act, 1873 :"

Local extent.

It extends to all persons and places for whom and for which the Governor-General in Council has power to make laws ;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force at once.

Power to appoint Commission.

2. The Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, nominate and appoint such persons as he thinks fit to be a Commission to investigate claims against the said Nawáb Názim.

All persons so nominated and appointed (hereinafter called "the Commissioners") shall continue to be members of the said Commission during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council.

Notice to claimants.

3. The Commissioners shall publish thrice in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Calcutta Gazette in English, Urdú, and Bengálí, and in such other mode and languages as they think fit, a notice calling upon all persons having claims against the said Nawáb Názim or his property, whether moveable or immoveable, to notify the same in writing to the Commissioners within six months from the date of the earliest of such publications.

Bar of debts not duly notified.

4. Every debt or liability to which the said Nawáb Názim is subject, or with which his property, or any part thereof, is charged, and which is not duly notified to the Commissioners within the time and in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, shall be barred :

Proviso.

Provided that, on sufficient cause being shown to the Commissioners, they may admit such claim within the further period of six months from the expiration of the said period of six months.

Particulars of claim.

5. Every such claimant shall along with his claim present full particulars thereof.

Every document on which he founds his claims, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the Commissioners along with the claim.

If the document be an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the Commissioners, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The Commissioners shall mark the book for the purpose of indentification, and after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

Entries in books.

If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him to the Commissioners along with the claim, the Commissioners may refuse to receive such document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

Exclusion of documents not produced.

The Commissioners may, from time to time, call for further and more detailed particulars of any claim preferred before them under this Act, and may, at their discretion, refuse to proceed with the investigation of the claim until such particulars are supplied.

May call for or admit any further evidence.

6. For the purposes of this Act, the Commissioners may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents by the same means, and, as far as possible, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Power of Commissioners to summon witnesses.

7. The Commissioners may administer an oath or affirmation, in such form as they think fit, to any person examined before them, touching the matters to be enquired into under this Act.

Power to administer oaths.

8. Every investigation conducted by the Commissioners, with reference to any claim preferred before them under this Act, or to any matter connected with any such claim, shall be deemed a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Investigation to be a judicial proceeding.

And every statement made by any person examined by or before the Commissioners with reference to such investigation, whether upon oath or otherwise, shall be deemed to be evidence within the meaning of the same Code.

9. Every witness required to attend and give evidence under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to a reasonable sum (to be allowed by the Commissioners) for his expenses in travelling to and from, and remaining at the place at which he is required to attend.

Expenses of witnesses.

10. The Commissioners shall, by agreement with the claimant or otherwise, determine the amount which, on the consideration of all the circumstances, they may consider to be in fairness and justice due to each claimant.

Commissioners to determine amount due to each claimant.

11. The Commissioners shall certify in each case the amount so determined, and upon the Governor-General in Council paying to any claimant the amount so certified, all claims of such claimant against the Nawáb Názim or his property shall be satisfied and extinguished.

Sum found due to be certified to Government.

12. No suit shall be commenced or prosecuted, and no writ or process shall at any time be sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názim, unless such suit be commenced, or such writ or process be sued for, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council first had and obtained.

Bar of suits against Nawáb Názim.

Such consent shall be certified by the signature of one of the Secretaries to the Government of India, and every such signature shall be judicially noticed.

And any suit which at any time shall have been, or shall be, commenced, and any writ or process which at any time shall have been, or shall be, sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názim without such consent so certified as aforesaid, shall be null and void.

13. The said Nawáb Názim shall be incapable of entering into any contract which may give rise to any pecuniary obligation on his part.

Nawáb Názim to be incapable of contracting.

14. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to render the Secretary of State for India in Council, or the Government of India, liable for any debt heretofore contracted by, or on behalf of, the said Nawáb Názim, or in respect of any claim to be reimbursed, which may be made by any person supplying him with necessaries.

Saving of Secretary of State in Council.

15. No suit or other proceeding shall be maintained against any person in respect of anything done by him in good faith under this Act.

Bar of suits for acts done bonâ fide.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Náwab Názim of Bengal belongs to one of the ancient and noble Indian families, which it is the policy of the British Government to maintain. To this end a sum of nearly seven lakhs has been annually allotted out of the public treasury to the Nawáb Názim, but owing to his extravagance this great income has proved quite unequal to his personal expenditure, and he is now involved in debt exceeding thirty lakhs of rupees, and carrying ruinous rates of interest.

Some steps must be taken to preserve the dignity of the Nawáb Názim's family; to keep Government out of the litigation which his creditors have already commenced, and which threatens to absorb property designed for the maintenance of the family; and to save the Indian tax-payers from further drafts on the public purse.

For this purpose the present Bill has been prepared. It empowers the Governor-General in Council to appoint a Commission to investigate claims against the Nawáb Názim. It provides for giving public notice to such claimants, and bars debts not notified to the Commission within six months from such publication; it gives the Commissioners the usual powers to summon witnesses, and compel the production of evidence; and it declares that the Commissioners shall, by agreement with each claimant or otherwise, determine the amount fairly due to him; that they shall certify the amount so determined; and that, upon the Governor-General in Council paying to the claimant the amount so certified, his claims against the Nawáb Názim or his property shall be extinguished.

The Bill then (here following the King of Oudh's Act No. XIII of 1868) bars suits against the Nawáb Názim, unless such suits have been commenced with the consent of the Government of India, and declares the Nawáb Názim incapable of contracting so as to involve himself in any pecuniary obligation.

ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BHAUGULPORE DIVISION FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 2nd September 1873.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Commissioner of the Bhaugulpore Division for the year 1872-73.

THE thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Commissioner, Mr. Barlow, for his complete report. Although he was only for a part of the year in charge of the division, and unable to go about much, his personal knowledge as a Magistrate, so far as Monghyr is concerned, supplied the want for that district; and for the rest, by judicious selections and extracts from the district officer's reports, he has made his account interesting and effective. Upon the subjects of police and crime, revenue, wards' estates, and some other sub-heads, the Commissioner has, however, introduced some matter which would have been better reserved for the departmental reports, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that in future the general report may be confined to broad expressions of opinion on these subjects, and that the details of the departments which are reported on separately may be avoided.

2. Mr. Kemble, the Magistrate of Purneah, who seems to have made himself thoroughly acquainted with his district by repeated tours and by careful observation, has supplied for the Commissioner's report much that is interesting and important. The statements of Mr. Lockwood, the district officer of Monghyr, are not always such as the Lieutenant-Governor can express his full concurrence with, and his experience of the district is limited; but there is a great deal that suggests discussion and inquiry in some of his remarks. Mr. Taylor, the Magistrate of Bhaugulpore, is not very largely quoted; but he knows his district, and what he says is valuable. The Lieutenant-Governor would have expected to have had more and peculiarly interesting notices of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, but no doubt the special measures there have very fully occupied the Deputy Commissioner, and much matter connected with the Pergunnahs has been separately disposed of.

3. On the whole, it seems that the year's report is favorable; the season was fair, and the condition of the people, comparatively at least, tolerable. There seems to be a good deal of difference of opinion regarding the general condition of the people of the division. Mr. Lockwood certainly takes too sanguine a view. In the Bhaugulpore and Monghyr districts the population is large and rents are high; wages, on the other hand, are low—certainly lower than in most districts in Bengal Proper—and very much lower than in the eastern districts. Food also is dearer than in these latter. Wages have risen, compared to former times; but so, it is stated, has the price of food.

Still the people are, for the most part, a decidedly industrious people, quiet, simple, and careful. They seem to be content in their small humble way. There is little or no emigration, the small number of emigrants reported being, in great part, inhabitants of other districts. What emigration does take place is confined, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, to the north-west corner of the division adjoining Tirhoot. In the reports of the eastern districts it is not often said that labourers from Bhaugulpore come to seek for labour.

4. The result of Mr. Kemble's inquiries on the Nepaul frontier is discouraging, in that after very fairly weighing the respective advantages and disadvantages of both, he comes to the conclusion that the condition of the Nepaul ryot is on the whole better than that of the British ryot. Although the smaller rent taken from the former by the Nepaulese Government is supplemented by forced labour and the purveyance system, on the other hand, the illegal cesses and exactions of zemindars, middlemen, &c., and other vexations, turn the scale against the British cultivator. It may be questioned whether the barbarous punishments of the Nepaulese for offences against marriage laws which Mr. Kemble mentions are not more consonant to native feeling than our mode of dealing with such cases.

In Purneah, where the population is much more sparse, it is probably a correct statement that the people are better off. They suffer a good deal from fever and from the ravages of the river Kosee, but those who escape these evils are perhaps in their means above the average of the ryots of these provinces.

5. The people of the Sonthal Pergunnahs are a simple and improvident race. They had in the past earned easily a poor living, and spent their little easily, so long as they had plenty of land, light rents, and little interference in their own jungly country. But since they have been invaded by grasping speculators and adventurers, and the zemindars by these instruments have begun to levy heavy rents and exactions, they have felt distress. The account of the working of the new regulation and new system is however decidedly satisfactory. We are told that the attitude of the zemindars is generally passive, with a tinge of dissatisfaction towards the new law. Balancing the curtailment of their powers over their ryots against the fact that the result of the new settlement will probably put an end to agitation for a long time to come, there remains to be got over the natural dislike which every one feels to having the management of his affairs taken out of his hands and settled for him; yet, says Mr. Barlow, there will certainly be no opposition experienced from the zemindars. At the same time, the people are very decidedly in favor of the settlement, and the only alarms that have recently been reported are from the Sonthals outside the Pergunnahs, who not unnaturally agitate for the same advantages as have been accorded there. The Commissioner remarks on the not unfrequent emigration of the Pahareas of the Rajmehal hills to secure labour. These are the savage Rajmehal hillmen who were reclaimed from robbery but were long notoriously idle; and it is gratifying to know that they now take so much to labour.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor has been much interested in Mr. Kemble's allusion at page 5 of the report to the guch bundi system of cultivation, which obtains in the Kaliagunge thannah of the Purneah district. A guch comprises from about 30 to 400 bigahs, and is cultivated nearly entirely by hired labour, like an ordinary English farm. His Honor in his experience of India has never heard of such large farms being usual, and he would be glad to be favoured with a full report upon the system, including the condition of the labourers. In the north of Oudh and elsewhere, Sir George Campbell has known farm labourers to be common, but they were virtually slaves under the curious hereditary bond system noticed in His Honor's last Administration Report.

7. Mr. Lockwood's remarks on the want of grazing ground for cattle are very true and forcible. It is a cruel misfortune, and a want of economy in these provinces, that the old Indian rule of setting apart a common grazing ground has been forgotten. In the directions for new settlements which are now issuing, an attempt has been made to make some such arrangements. The Lieutenant-Governor quite thinks that the subject of food for cattle, and again, through cattle, the importance of making manure for land, are the most vital agricultural questions of the day in India.

The Magistrate of Monghyr testifies to the great relief and benefit of the people in the destruction of tigers, leopards, and wild animals. He says he has as many as 100 leopard skins brought in at a time. It appears that if the scanty jungle does not give grazing for tame animals, at least it ceases to harbour wild ones.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor notices Mr. Kemble's description of the harhasli jumma in the large Dhurrumpore ward's estate. The ryot pays according to the crop he sows, not according to the quality of the land cultivated. After the harvest, the putwaree goes round, finds out how much land each ryot has cultivated with each crop, and assesses the rent accordingly. This system of cultivation is not uncommon in native states, and the people do not always dislike it. But it gives rise to constant opportunities for peculation, and no doubt as matters settle down fixed rents should be arranged in preference. In the meantime, however, an exceptionally good opportunity is afforded of getting agricultural statistics on this ward's estate, and the Board of Revenue will be specially addressed to this effect. The Collector remarks that the present rates of rent for the fields are very low, but he should be cautioned against making "the great change" of which he speaks in the shape of a very sudden and excessive enhancement. The Lieutenant-Governor must again repeat that the enhancement of the rental of the estate is not the main object of wards' management, although no doubt in this case some enhancement is necessary.

It is satisfactory to note that the general result of Mr. Lockwood's inquiries was to show that the cultivation of poppy was popular.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor is struck with Mr. Kemble's remark in the description of his tour in Purneah (page 5): "I was much surprised to find the people here growing indigo freely and willingly." Sir George Campbell fears that this is too often the feeling of Government officers of much experience, and that in many or most districts there is too much to justify it. He has before noticed, and heartily rejoices, that Purneah is an honorable exception to this state of things, and has frequently held out the example of Purneah as showing that free trade in indigo cultivation is possible. Indigo is a most profitable staple in Behar, and its manufacture is in itself an industry much to be encouraged. It is sad then that except in Purneah there should be about its cultivation the element of compulsion described by the Commissioner. The Lieutenant-Governor must again say that this cannot be a wholesome state of things. "The system being a bad one at the best," writes Mr. Barlow, "it is only a question of toleration, and in isolated instances it has been proved that the ryots suffer much oppression under it. There is more or less of a recognized antagonism at work, which a word of agitation may at any time stir up." His Honor fears that this description is a very true one.

It seems from the account of Mr. Wilkins, the sub-divisional officer of Begoo Serai, that the factories on getting farms take a portion of the lands, whether the cultivators like it or not (and they can hardly be expected to like it), without discrimination of the presence or absence of occupancy rights. The Lieutenant-Governor again reproduces the remarks of the Commissioner on this subject: "I am completely satisfied," says Mr. Barlow, "that the blot upon the whole arrangement, and that which sets the opposite parties by the ears, is the appropriation by the factory of the ryots' lands nolens volens when indigo operations are commenced in any village. It is only in human nature that such should be the case, and I doubt if it would alter the condition of feeling engendered in the people's minds even if indigo presented the most remunerative cultivation of all the crops—a fact which I think no one will now contend for. As matters stand, the connection with a factory begins by an exaction from the ryots of a proportion of the best lands of the village. I suppose I am hardly unfair in my view, if I suggest that in his subsequent relation as a labourer working for the factory, admitting him to be paid every farthing due for the miscellaneous duties he is bound to perform, the ryot is expected to be a submissive servant, working his plough or his cart at the call of the factory, and without consulting his own inclinations. In all this last respect, I am far from saying that formal injustice is committed by the factory in requiring the ryot to work out his contract; but I say the arrangements are sufficient to account for the irritation in the minds of the people, which sometimes shows itself."

These observations are remarkably corroborated by a statement of the Collector of Bogra, to which the Lieutenant-Governor's attention has been drawn in the Administration Report of the Rajshahye Division. A considerable settlement of immigrants from the Monghyr district (to which Begoo Serai belongs) into that district was explained by one of the immigrants to Mr. Bignold to be in consequence of "all the best lands in Monghyr having been taken up by indigo."

On the other hand, as regards the Purneah system, the Collector writes: "Petty differences occasionally arise between planters and their ryots, such as always will crop up in all business transactions; but I have seen none of that universal disaffection and discontent which prevailed for years in Bengal."

10. A conspicuous fact connected with the land system of the division is stated to be the absence of intermediate permanent rights between those of the zemindars and the cultivating ryot, and the general practice of farming estates in short leases. This is a thoroughly bad system, like that of the old Irish middlemen. There are very few, if any, zemindars, says the Commissioner, who can be brought to the notice of Government for anything done by them during the year to improve the condition of their villages. As a rule, big estates are let out in farm, and the condition of the ryots is not cared for. The zemindars do not understand or care for improvement; in many cases they are spendthrifts, and their estates are heavily encumbered. The Government is making efforts to rid every estate over which it has influence from this farming system, and executive influence has been brought to bear with the most beneficial effect in the case of the estates of Rajah Leelanund Sing, the greatest zemindar of the division. Since the Lieutenant-Governor had an interview with him, and the late Commissioner, Mr. Dalrymple, took him in hand, and prevailed on him to permit a tried old Deputy Collector to settle the most disorganised part of his estates, there has been a great reduction of nominal rents without any loss to the Rajah, as the sum was covered by the assessment of lands newly brought under khas management.

The indebtedness and embarrassment of Leelanund Sing's estate is a lesson that ought not to be lost upon other large zemindars who will resort to litigation. No man has been so systematic a litigant, and so successful, as Rajah Leelanund; he has got many great decrees against Government as well as against others, and yet the net result of it all is that he is greatly involved in debt, and until Government afforded its assistance his people were mismanaged and discontented.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that nowhere have the rents of a peaceable, industrious, and submissive population been more screwed than in Bhaugulpore. It was the same action of the zemindars that was leading to rebellion in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. As regards particular zemindari estates however, where the tenantry belong chiefly to low castes (see paragraph 189), it is stated that they will leave an estate on the smallest provocation, and it is a comfort that the industrious poor are thus able to go off to another estate when exaction is carried to excess. A marked contrast to the condition of the zemindars' ryots is afforded by the tenantry in the Government ryotwar tract of the Damin-i-koh. "Whatever," says Mr. Barlow, "may stir the minds of the Sonthal population generally, the residents in the Damin are quiet and unmoved. There is no oppression, no levying of cesses and abwabs, the rates of rent are low, and the ryots are well off."

12. The road cess valuations, as described by the Commissioner (paragraphs 127 to 133), seem to have been on the whole successfully carried out, and the Lieutenant-Governor will look with interest to learn how the cess may in practice be found to work. It is to be hoped that the division may be provided with good local roads from its proceeds. Mr. Kemble reports favorably of the popularity of the cess in Purneah, explaining that he has widely made it known that the money collected in the district will be spent in the district. His Honor trusts that all officers will assiduously impress this distinctive feature of the Road Cess Act upon the people.

13. The questions connected with butwarra, mutation, and the sale laws, alluded to by the Commissioner in paragraphs 117 to 126, are all of importance, and the Lieutenant-Governor quite thinks that the law on these and other important subjects connected with the land, and the machinery for giving them effect, require overhaul and amendment, but the subjects are of too wide a scope to be considered in this place.

14. The remarks of the Commissioner on the subject of the transfer of the rent-suits to the civil courts demand also careful consideration. Mr. Barlow strongly recommends an additional Moonsiff for the Banka sub-division of the district of Bhaugulpore, and in a country where the system of distraining standing crops prevails, as it does here, the injury to ryots from the want of speedy justice must no doubt be great. His Honor has requested the High Court to take into consideration the need of an additional Moonsiff at Banka.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the work of collecting agricultural statistics will now be carried on vigorously, so far as the means at our disposal will allow. With the Sub-Deputies, the Putwaries of this division re-organized as now directed, and such records as that of the harhasli system of the Dhurrumpore estate, we should be able to add to the record of tenures resulting from the road cess proceedings many agrarian details, just as our specimen areas for vital statistics are adding details to the knowledge acquired by the census.

The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the district officers of Bhaugulpore and Monghyr would extend to the whole district the collection of vital statistics, as they are now collected in the selected areas; but His Honor fears that such an attempt would be premature at present, and he would be quite content if at the first we can secure accurate registration upon a small scale. It is the quality and not the quantity of statistical information that is of value, and we must be quite successful in our small endeavours before we can hope for large results.

16. No effort will be spared by Government to ascertain the actual mineral resources of this division. There are coal mines in the Sonthal country, though the coal is said to be of a poor description; and minerals—lead, silver, and copper—are found in Bhaugulpore and elsewhere.

17. The Ganges-borne traffic from the Bhaugulpore Division is very large indeed. Nearly all the wheat that comes down the river is supplied at marts in the Monghyr and Bhaugulpore districts. Of the pulses also more than one-half is supplied from Monghyr, Purneah, and Bhaugulpore. There is a very large export of oil-seeds also from the division.

The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to know if the Commissioner can explain why rice, as stated in his 64th paragraph, is now exported westwards so much less than formerly.

18. His Honor is glad to see that the summary-trial system under the Criminal Procedure Code works well in this division, while at the same time it is not overdone, and does not send every one to prison, as some of the native organs seemed at one time to apprehend. The subject of police will be more properly dealt with in the Crime Report; but the Lieutenant-Governor notes the Commissioner's statement that there is not really a large amount of crime in the division compared to the population, and that this result is due to the peaceful character of the people quite as much as to the police management.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner's general remarks on pound administration, and of the system of charges in force; and now that the Purneah pounds are to be put under punchayets, he will be glad to approve of such a scheme as Mr. Barlow proposes; but the subject should be reconsidered under a special report.

20. The question of the extradition of criminals from Nepaul has been carefully watched by the Commissioner. The Lieutenant-Governor quite concurs that it is urgently necessary that something should be arranged on this subject, which will meet the particular attention of Government in the Political Department.

21. As regards civil justice, Mr. Barlow's account is more favorable than usual, especially with reference to the character of the Bhaugulpore bar; and His Honor believes that that bar is really unusually good. Mr. Dalrymple, the late Commissioner, also held the same opinion. The people seem to have more taste for law than literature, for, while there are so many excellent lawyers, His Honor observes (paragraph 75) that there is no public press nor a single newspaper in the division.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad that the people have confidence in the Registration Department, and trusts that we may be able to multiply offices and induce the people to take more advantage of it.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to understand the Commissioner's remarks under the heading of Excise. If it is as he says, His Honor has no doubt that it is due to the combination alluded to by Mr. Barlow in his 137th paragraph, and will pass off. Details on the subject should be reserved for the departmental report. The whole question is important and difficult, and receives the earnest attention of Government.

24. His Honor has been struck by the instances of corruption on the part of railway native officials to which the Commissioner has rightly given prominence. There seems to have been a regular system of organized fraud kept up. The subject has been separately reported on by the Commissioner, and is now under consideration.

25. The Lieutenant-Governor is much gratified that mass education should have been so well started in the plain districts of the division, and he trusts that the apathy of the landlords will be overcome and great results obtained. Although it is true that the Sonthal Pergunnahs have Missionary Schools, His Honor must express his regret at the failure to begin pathsalas in that district; it is true that Mr. Wood has a valid excuse in the absorbing nature of his settlement work, but it is to be hoped that now, either through or independently of the Missionaries, the extension of primary education, so much wanted to raise the Sonthals, will be energetically undertaken and thoroughly carried out. The Magistrates of Purneah, Bhaugulpore, and Monghyr, are entitled to much credit for their zeal in the cause of education. Provision for the training of pathsala gurus has now been made.

26. It is stated that the people are pleased at the use of Hindi instead of Hindustani, for many Court processes. "In most places," says one officer, "people desire to learn Hindustani merely to enable them to take appointments in the police, &c. As soon as I explained that Hindi would soon be used all over the west of the district, no objections were made. 'We will now,' say the villagers, 'be able to read the papers the constables bring, and see what they are—an order to levy a fine, or make an arrest!'" It is very satisfactory to know that the Government measures in establishing Hindi for these purposes are so much appreciated.

27. Very little interest, it seems, is taken, in the division, in the Town and Dispensary Committees. The Lieutenant-Governor very much regrets this apathy. Every effort should be made to improve and lead the members of the Committees to take an active part. The interest taken in the Education and Road Cess Committees is, on the other hand, a more hopeful index of the progress of municipal institutions. The Lieutenant-Governor would be especially sorry to see the practice of taking local public works from the members of the Committees and concentrating the responsibility in the District Engineer carried too far, and begs that the practice may be carefully watched.

28. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the favorable testimony borne by the Commissioner to the public spirit of the following gentlemen and landholders:—Maharajah Sir Joy Mungul Singh, K.C.S.I.; Baboos Hur Bullub Narayan Singh, Ram Narayan Singh, Kartik Nauth Das Panday, Ram Persaud Das, Shah Abdool Hossein, and Sheik Tajali. Meerza Mahomed Hossein of Purneah is specially commended for his creditable interest in municipal matters. Baboo Surwan Singh of Bhitya is an exceptional zemindar, doing much to benefit the condition of his ryots.

His Honor's special acknowledgments are due to Mr. Barlow for his successful administration during a great part of the year as Collector and Magistrate, and afterwards as Commissioner of the Division.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.

BURDWAN DIVISION.
1	Burdwan ...	Oct. 21st*	Nil	Weather hot; very little rain.	Prospects of crops very gloomy. Prices still rising.	Fever prevalent
2	Bancoorah ...	„ 18th	Nil	Dry	Daily getting worse. All crops are suffering from want of rain, more especially the paddy. In many places the straw is being cut, as the plants are dying. Irrigation from tanks, &c., is being made the most of; and even now, if the rain falls within a few days, half the crop will be saved. The rain referred to in last report benefited the crops in the south-east of the district.
3	Beerbhoom ...	„ 18th	0·91	Bright and hot. No rain since evening of the 11th instant. Rain which fell on that date at Soori was not general.	Crops in the high lands especially suffering much from the continued drought. The early rice crop is now generally in ear, but is very deficient in weight. Without rain scarcely more than one-third the general outturn calculated on the two crops of rice can be hoped for. With a good fall of rain soon two-thirds might possibly be saved. Irrigation is had recourse to wherever possible.
4	Midnapore ...	„ 18th	0·01	The expectations of rain on the 11th and 12th were in great measure delusive; partial showers fell, especially towards the south, where above an inch is reported to have fallen; clouds have now disappeared, and the prospects of further rain very small.	The late rice crop, which was a very promising one, will now be entirely destroyed on the higher lands, and on the lower lands the crop will be deteriorated. Reports received from all police stations show (after allowing for exaggeration) that the outturn will be from about one-fourth in the worst to three-fourths in the best of an average crop. Taking the district as a whole, the crop will probably be a little over one half of an average crop. There would be individual distress, but no insufficiency of food if the district stood alone, but the drain of grain towards Bancoorah is now very great.
5	Hooghly ...	„ 18th	Nil	Clear; no indication of rain; weather cooler; dews heavy at night; wind chiefly from south, south-east, and north-east.	Bad reports from all thannahs. Sugarcane dying as well as the rice. A portion of the rice is gone, and has been abandoned to cattle. The ground is too hard to sow the winter crops. 12 inches of rain at once may save a 6-anna crop; irrigation is being resorted to, but this will only save a small portion. Prices rising.
	Howrah ...	„ 18th	0·32	Warmer than last week; seems to be set fair.	Distinctly bad. It has been reported that the rice is beginning to assume a yellow tinge everywhere. It is believed that half the crop is already irretrievably gone, even if rain was to come in plenty. This seems to be the case all over the district. Rain next week might still give a half crop, and the increase in the heat is a favorable prognostic of rain. The people are becoming very anxious indeed.

* Telegram of the 21st October, received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

PRESIDENCY DIVISION.
6	24-Pergunnahs ...	1873. Oct. 21st	Nil	Dry and hot during the day and cool at night, with heavy dews. A very small fall of rain at Diamond Harbour and Baraset and Baroipore sub-divisions.	The late rice crop, except on very low lands, has been seriously damaged by the drought, and if there be no heavy rain soon, the crop will be a very short one. Sugarcane and vegetables good.	Fever of a malarious type at Baroipore. Ordinary fever at Satkhora abating. In other parts general health good.
7	Nuddea ...	„ 18th	Nil	In some parts of the district there has been a little rain. In portions of Ranaghat and Meherpore sub-divisions even heavy rains are reported, but generally there has been no rain or next to none. There are clouds about. The sun is generally very powerful.	Except in the low lands, the late rice has suffered and is suffering greatly from drought; the arahur pulse, sugarcane, teel (oilseed), and chillie crops are thriving, though they would be better for rain. The sowing of pulses has commenced. In Meherpore, owing to the rain, indigo sowings have been made, and the cold weather crops just sown are said to have derived much benefit.
8	Jessore ...	„ 18th	0·60	A little rain fell as anticipated in the last week, on Sunday the 12th; the rest of the week has been bright and sunny. Wind generally from the north.	In the Jhenidah sub-division there was no rain, and the prospects there are gloomy. In the rest of the district the rain has done good, but it has not been enough, and more is wanted.
RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.
9	Moorshedabad ...	„ 18th	0·30	A slight rainfall at the beginning of the week, but by no means general. Cool in the mornings and evenings.	The rain has been too slight to be of any real advantage to the late rice crop, though beneficial for cold weather sowing. If copious rain does not fall within a few days, the crops will be destroyed, except in low lands and in parts where means of irrigation have been available. Where the recent rain has not fallen, the newly sown cold-weather crops are suffering.	Small-pox prevails in the Lalbagh sub-division.
10	Dinagepore ...	„ 18th	Nil	Fine; clouds gather nearly every day, but pass away without any rain falling.	The rice crop is getting worse and worse for want of rain; a good fall even now would save a lot of the rice, and there does appear a slight change in the weather of a rainy tendency. Ploughing and preparing for sowing the cold weather crops is busily going on everywhere.
11	Maldah ...	„ 18th	0·92	Fair and dry with the exception of Sunday, which was cloudy and rainy.	In thannah Khurbah a total failure of the rice crop is expected unless it rains soon; in thannahs Goregoribah and Gazole, and Gomostapoor some part of the crop may still be saved if it rains shortly. In English Bazar and Sibgunge thannahs the pulse crop is reported to be in good condition. Pulses and other cold weather crops are now being sown.
12	Rajshahye ...	„ 18th	Nil	No rain during the week. Night scold, and heavy dews.	The prospects of the late rice crops are as bad as possible. In the tract known as Bhurindro, in the west of the district, the rice crop has failed, and the price of rice is about 11 seers of 80 tolahs to a rupee. The cold weather crops are being sown. Tobacco, pulses on low lands, teel (oilseed), and urhur pulse are doing well.
13	Rungpore ...	„ 18th	Nil	Fine, and getting cooler.	Accounts from all parts of the district are very bad; there seems to be no prospect of any crop of rice except in very low lands. The prospects of other crops seem to be fair.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at sudder station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district so far as known.	State and prospects of the crops to-date.	REMARKS.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.—(Contd.) 14	Bograh ..	Oct. 18th	Not appreciable by the rain gauge.	Weather cooler, but no prospect of rain. There was some rain last Sunday towards the west of the district, which did good in thannahs Adamdighi and Khetlal, and a part of Bogra thannah.	The continued want of rain (with the exception noted in the previous column) is still causing anxiety, and the late rice crop will be very poor. Jute has been reaped in certain places, and the yield is fair. Sugarcane in Bogra and other thannahs is doing fairly well. Sesamum (oilseed) has been planted in Sariakandy thannah, and promises fairly well.
15	Pubna ...	„ 18th	0·32	Weather cool, with one shower of rain, attended with strong wind.	The prospect of the late rice in the head-quarters sub-division is becoming bad for want of rain. Teel (oilseed), indigo, and pulses are fair. In the sub-division serious apprehension is felt. Especial reports have been called for.
COOCH BEHAR DIVISION. 16	Darjeeling ..	„ 18th*	Nil	Bright and warm during the day, but cold at night and in the morning. Winter setting in.	Want of rain is complained of both in the hills and the plains. In the Terai the winter crops are said to be looking dry, but as yet no serious results have been reported.
17	Julpigoree ..	„ 18th	Nil	Clear and fine weather; mornings cold, days still hot; no appearance of rain.	The short rainfall is being felt more or less all over the district. About the sudder station and north-west of the district there will be a 4-anna loss of the winter paddy. The parts of Fallacotta is the same; to the very south near Rungpore, the loss is more considerable, and it is also large in some parts of the Dooars. Prices have not risen; this is doubtless owing to the fact that the people do not depend on the rice crop only. Jute crop has been good, and early rice was average; and the cold weather crops, which will not be effected much by rainfall, such as tobacco, mustard, &c., are now being sown under favorable circumstances.
	Cooch Behar ...	„ 18th	Nil	Fine ...	In a great part of the district the late rice crop will be a very poor one owing to want of rain. In other parts the crop has a flourishing appearance. Transplanting of tobacco is going on.
	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVISION. 18	Dacca ...	„ 21st*	Nil	Weather—occasional showers in north of the district, but not enough to do any real good.	Prospects of crops bad.
19	Furreedpore ...	„ 18th	Nil	Hot during the day and cool at night. First four days of the week cloudy.	The late paddy on low lands still promises well, but it is likely to suffer from further want of rain, none having fallen during the past three weeks. In some places the paddy having matured to a certain extent is being reaped, and land is being prepared for the cold weather crops. Price of rice continues to rise.

* Telegram of the 21st October received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

20	Backergunge ..	Oct. 18th	1·73	Cold weather coming in. Rain on three days in the beginning of the week.	Fair. The heavy rains have done much good.
21	Mymensing ..	„ 18th	0·27	Very little rain at sudder station and in the west of the district. From the south-east of the district 2·18 of rain reported. No present appearance of more rain.	The crops in the Kishoregunge sub-division have improved somewhat from the rain. Reports from other parts of the district are very unfavorable.
22	Sylhet ..	„ 11th	Nil	Very cool ..	The ryots still hope that there will be rain in the month of Kartick to save the crops on high lands.
23	Cachar ..	„ 11th	1·93	Showery ..	The fall this week is sufficient for the crops in their present state.
CHITTAGONG DIVISION.
24	Chittagong ..	„ 11th	0·13	First part of the week was fine; 10th and 11th cloudy.	Generally fair, but backward. The previous reports from Moiskal and Kutubdia have on personal enquiry by the Collector turned out to be exaggerated.
25	Noakhally ..	„ 11th	0·11	Weather fair	On the southern jurisdiction of the town station the late rice is reported to be injured by insects ("Sani"). In the rest of the stations it is progressing favorably.
26	Tipperah ..	„ 18th	0·52	Weather gloomy till three last days, with occasional drizzling rain. The nights are getting cool.	The slight rain has refreshed the crop where it has still life in it, but very much of it is past help. Sugar-cane is fair.
27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 11th	Nil.	Generally cool throughout the whole week; sometimes foggy in the morning. Commencement of the cold season.	The paddy crop is being gathered; the cotton pods are forming. The prospects of the latter crop are fairly good. The early rice harvest has been successful.
	Hill Tipperah ..	„ 11th	Nil	The mornings and evenings at the beginning of the week were cooler and pleasant; the latter part cloudy and excessively hot.	Rain sadly needed. The crops in some parts of the district look partially parched.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION.
28	Patna ..	„ 21st*	Nil	No rain. Mornings and evenings cold.	The prospects of the district getting worse day by day, and if it does not rain within 20 days, there will be great scarcity, if not famine. Prices rising steadily.	Health of the district very good.
29	Gya ..	„ 18th	Nil	Cool and dry ..	Rain very urgently required. Rice plants daily withering up. There is no sufficient moisture in the lands for sowing the cold weather crops. There is no appearance of rain, and the prospects of the coming year are exceedingly gloomy.
30	Shahabad ..	„ 18th	Nil	Cloudy and variable, with no rain. Hot in days and cool at nights.	The continued drought is proving fatal to the rice crop wherever it cannot be irrigated. In many places it has already died, and has been cut for fodder, and in many places it is drying up. A very fair extent of crop has been irrigated in the Sasseeram sub-division by the canal water, and looks promising. The cold weather crop is being sown in places where the soil has sufficient moisture, but a large tract of land must remain unsown unless rain falls. Rice is being imported from Bengal in considerable quantities.

PATNA DIVISION.—(Contd.)
31	Tirhoot ...	Oct. 18th	Nil	Hot by day and cool by night.	The paddy is being rapidly dried up for want of rain, and agriculturalists are cutting it as fodder for cattle. Exportation is still going on. The want of moisture in the soil retards the preparation of lands for the cold weather crops. Prospects are becoming worse every day, and if rain does not soon fall, the winter crops will not be sown. Prices rising everywhere.
32	Sarun ...	„ 18th	Nil	Days moderately hot, but mornings and evenings cool; west wind prevailing.	Prospects gloomy; the early crop was on the whole a poor one, not more than eight annas; rain urgently wanted all over the district. Rice very much injured, and in places is being cut to feed cattle with. No moisture in the lands for the cold weather sowings; sugar-cane and kodo (millet) partially injured within the jurisdiction of the outpost of Gurkha in the sudder sub-division, and Goothni in the Sewan sub-division; rahur (pulse) and cotton are, however, doing well. Preliminary inquiries are being made for relief works. Prices are rising.
33	Chumparun ...	„ 18th	Nil	Hot days and cool nights; west wind.	The continued drought is doing serious damage to the crops. Unless rain falls soon, anxiety for the ensuing year will be felt. Prices rising steadily, especially of rice.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION.
34	Monghyr ...	„ 18th	Nil	Fair; no signs of rain ...	The prospects of both rice and winter crops are very bad at present. The district may be divided nearly into two portions, north and south of the Ganges, one of which grows rice and the other winter crops. At least one-half of the rice is lost already, and at least one-half of the remaining portion will be lost, if it does not rain before the end of the month. Regarding the winter crop, even if there is no rain before the end of the year, we may have a five-anna crop; if there is rain before the end of the month an average crop may be expected.
35	Bhaugulpore ...	„ 21st	Nil	Cloudy now and then. Good rain reported in south-east of district.	Rice crops still fair on low lands; 12 annas outturn quite possible to north of Ganges. Madhoopoorah crops are not good, except in south and south-east, where a fair outturn may be looked for. In Soopole crops are as bad as they well can be. Rain very much wanted for rice and cold weather sowings: with rain a good deal of rice crop may turn out well.	General health very good.
36	Purneah ...	„ 18th	Nil	Hot days and cold nights	The low lands near the Ganges and Kusi will alone give any winter rice crop. The winter crop is being sown. It is reported from Araria that the tobacco will not germinate, and koorthee (pulse) is drying up. Prices fell at the beginning of week, but are again rising.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BEHAR—(Contd.)		1873.
Bhagulpore Dtn. 37	Sonthal Pergunnahs ...	Oct. 18th	Nil	Clouds hanging about everywhere clearing off without rain, with cloudish morning.	Very bad accounts from the distant parts of the district. Close about Dumka the rice still looks excellent, but it must have rain to hold on. It is nearly true that the further from Dumka the worse the prospects are. In Rajmehal, Godda, and Deoghur, the high land rice is withering fast. The tanks are very low; near Dumka the ground is soft and moist, and the tanks are much fuller. Irrigation is going on everywhere, but hardly any cultivation for the cold weather crops.
ORISSA.
Orissa Division. 38	Cuttack ...	„ 21st*	0·07	No rain in sub-divisions.	More rain wanted for the late rice crops.	Public health good. Two cases of sporadic cholera at Jugutsingpore.
39	Pooree ...	„ 11th	2·85	Hot for the most part of the week; heavy rainfall on the night of the 10th; and the weather rainy afterwards. Rainfall at Khoordha, 1·12.	Weeding and transplanting in the late rice fields are still going on in some places; late rice on high land has suffered much from want of rain, but there has been a good rainfall on Wednesday. The young plants of pulses are promising. The prospects of cold weather crops continue favorable. Khoordha: late rice suffering from want of sufficient rain; also badly off for irrigation on high lands. Sorad or winter rice still safe.
40	Balasore ...	„ 18th	3·61	Strong sun and very little wind. Rain throughout the district, plentiful in the centre and south, but scantier northwards.	All apprehensions of a general failure of the rice crops have been removed by the rains; and taking the district as a whole, a fair harvest is confidently anticipated. The small proportion of early rice already harvested throughout the district has proved a first-rate crop.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazareebaugh ...	„ 18th	Nil	Very fine; clouds gather but pass away; there was a shower only.	From all parts of the district anxious reports about the rice are being received. Immediate rain is required to make the crop a good one. A week's delay will cause a great loss. Prices are very high.	Very little disease
42	Lohardugga ...	„ 18th	Nil	Bright and clear, with variable wind and a few clouds hanging about.	The rice crop in the higher low lands is suffering considerably for want of rain, and the low land crops will suffer also if rain does not shortly come. If rain falls within a week, the harvest generally will be a fair one, otherwise all the late rice except that in the very low lands will be lost. In the Palamow sub-division the sowings for the cold weather crops are almost entirely at a stand-still for want of rain.
43	Singbhoom ...	„ 11th	Nil	No rain during the week. Sky overcast since 10th, giving promise of rain.	The rain reported last week was only local and partial. Bad reports beginning to come in from almost all parts of the district, and from almost everywhere there is an urgent cry for more rain. Two more showers required to save the crops, one immediately. At present the prospects look very gloomy.	A great deal of fever still prevalent. Two fatal cases of cholera in the town.

* Telegram of the 21st October received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district so far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
	CHOTA NAGPORE.—(Contd.)	1873.
	South-West Frontier Agency.—(Contd.)
44	Maunbhoom ...	Oct. 18th	0·09	Cloudy, but no rain ...	The rice crops on the high lands have completely failed, and those on the lower level have suffered severely; only those which can be irrigated from tanks and reserviors will be saved, and these will yield about half a crop.
	ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalpara ..	„ 11th	Nil	Whole week fair and bright; nights getting cool and dewy; mornings occasionally foggy.	The winter rice that has been transplanted has greatly suffered from want of rain. These crops will therefore be poor unless rain falls soon. Pulses and mustard are being sown; jute, sugarcane, and cotton doing well.
46	Kamroop ..	„ 20th*	Nil	Weather clear; cold mornings and nights.	Rice crops and tea backward for want of rain. Cotton, sugarcane, and pulse crops progressing fairly.	Public health good.
47	Durrung ..	„ 11th	1·35	Bright hot days and chilly clear nights. North-east wind during the latter part of the week.	Rain still wanted near Mungledye and indeed all over the district, but there has been some, and matters are improving. Tea doing well.	Public health improving, and cholera in Mungledye dying away.
48	Nowgong ..	„ 11th	0·02	Weather clear and settled with cold nights and mornings; easterly breezes.	The late rice crop is suffering from the great want of rain and the crop will prove a poor one if rain does not fall before the end of the month. Pulses being sown. Sugarcane doing well; tea operations favorable.	General health excellent.
49	Seebsaugor ..	„ 11th	0·12	Fair; mornings, and evenings beginning to get cool, but hot sun during the day.	Rice crop doing tolerably, but rather backward. Tea doing well.
50	Luckimpore ...	Oct. 11th	0·31	The whole week was very fine. Rain fell early on the morning of the 8th. North Luckimpore subdivision. Rain nearly every day, with occasional thunder-storms.	Crops doing fairly ...	Public health improving.
51	Naga Hills ...	.....	.....	.....	.....	Return not received.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	„ 11th	0·12	The weather in the early part of the day has been bright and clear, but cloudy towards evening with slight rain.	The late rice is ripening fast, as also the millet, and it will shortly be fit for reaping. All other standing crops are doing well.
53	Garo Hills ..	„ 11th	Nil	Very hot during the day. No rain; cloudy on the afternoon of the 11th; the mornings and evenings are getting cooler.	Nothing much to add to what has been written in the last report. The cotton crop is fair and will do well if there is no wind to blow the pods to pieces. It would be better for some rain.

* Telegram of the 20th October received on the 21st. Shows the rainfall during the seven days including the 21st idem.

Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad.

Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Power to remove houses.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) to be continued.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

Total sum payable.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

Parties liable to pay.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

Names of proprietors.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

Apportionment amongst zemindars.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Proviso in respect of the pergunnahs in Schedule (E.)

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

Apportionment amongst proprietors.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

Apportionment where the lands held without payment of rent, not being estates on the register of revenue-free tenures.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

Amount apportioned payable by instalments.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

Final order of apportionment.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

Orders for payment.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

Recovery from zemindars.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

Recovery by zemindars or proprietors.

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2,

Act V of 1898, s. 37 (Repealed), III of 1910, as amended by Bengal Act VII of 1895, provided that the right or interest of any person taking from the proprietors of such tenure shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

PART VII.

52. Whoever wilfully obstructs any person duly authorized under this Act in removing or levelling any embankment, house, hut, or other building, or in the lawful exercise of any of the powers in this Act conferred, shall, in case such obstruction shall not amount to an offence within the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the Magistrate, or to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to a period of imprisonment not exceeding six months.

We have received and considered the papers noted in the margin.

We have made numerous alterations in the draft of the Bill, restoring in many cases the language of Act II of 1870, for instance, in Sections 11, 14, 35, 38, 62, 73, 84, 94, 97, 99, 109, 111, 116, 117, 122, and 125. We have altered the definition of "emigrant" and of "magistrate," and in reference to the latter we have specified in Section 93 the sections under which a Subordinate Magistrate may be deputed to act.

We have omitted the provisions relating to evidence in Sections 28, 62, 63, 66, 106, and 133, and the references to the Penal Code in Sections 13, 103, 108, and 132. We have omitted Section 12, the Council of India having brought in a Bill to deal with the subject of it. We have also omitted the definition of "servant" from Section 3; Clauses 4, 15, and 16, from Section 5; and the following sections or parts of sections :—Sections 26, 34 (last part), 42, 65, 67, 83 (last part), 97, 109 (last part), 112, 116 (last sentence), 122 (proviso), 124 (last sentence), and 140.*

We have not required that a garden-sirdar should pay a fee for having his certificate countersigned under Section 19, or that a recruiter should pay a fee to the medical officer for a certificate under Section 45. We have slightly altered the constitution of the Labor Transport Fund to meet the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Section 308.

We have given power to a Magistrate to advance any sum which a garden-sirdar may be ordered to pay to an emigrant under Section 31, and to recover the amount from the employer with interest; and we have provided that interest shall be recoverable on sums advanced by a Magistrate under Sections 79, 80, 81, and 86.

We have reduced the amount of fine which may be imposed under Sections 66, 67, 72, 75, 77, and 94. We have given power to the Lieutenant-Governor to affix penalties to the breach of rules framed by him under Section 5, and we have provided that the penalties (if any) shall be published with the rules.

We have required (in Sections 22, 46) that the garden-sirdar or recruiter, as the case may be, shall produce his certificate or license when he appears with a recruit before a

Magistrate for registration. We have struck out the provision that a recruiter shall wear a badge. We have given the same power of cancelling the license or certificate of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar under Sections 21, 36, and 41. We have substituted the word "rice" for "food" in Sections 5 (clause 13), 17, 23, 46, and 114.

We have slightly modified Sections 67, 119, 120, and 135.
